TOOLS OF THE TRADE - 'THE MAGAZINE'

BY STEVE MENZ

I am using this article to say a "Thank You" to you, the reader. As we have entered 2013 we can celebrate that the Mayans were wrong. I would like to talk about what has become a very important tool of the trade, the Eastern Shore Golf Magazine. Just 5 years into circulation, this magazine has become an integral part of our golf society.

So much that Ray Taranto has been recognized by the PGA Middle Atlantic Section as the 2013 recipient of the Earle Hellen Sports Media of the year Award!

A well-deserved accolade for a man that has poured his heart and soul into this publication. An award that he shares with his family who have dedicated their lives to this effort as well! This mag has brought the Eastern Shore's golfing community closer together. It has given all of us one central location to find out what has happened and is going to happen in golf. Friendships have been forged and great memories have already been made through the Tour on the Shore events. The advertisers in this magazine are golf enthusiasts like you and I. I am always happy to support them. I can't wait to see what transpires throughout the next 5 years! As I sit and reflect on the past 5 years and nearly 100 contributions, I really came to appreciate being able to share my golf experiences with you. I enjoy the feedback both positive and negative and use them as a spring board to write the next 100. So Happy New Year to all! Thank you again for taking the time to enjoy some of our efforts.

I AM HUMBLLED AND HONORED TO RECEIVE THIS AWARD AND FEEL IT SHOULD BE SHARED WITH ALL OF OUR DEDICATED CONTRIBUTORS, LOYAL ADVERTISERS AND SPONSORS;

UMES Graduates THE FIRST CLASS OF THE GOLF PGA MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

by Bill Robinson, Director - Office of Public Relations

The University of Maryland Eastern Shore awarded 273 degrees at its December 2012 commencement, including seven that went to members of the first class to graduate from the golf management program.

BILLY DILLON,
JAMES GARVIN, JR.,
MALACHI KNOWLES,
DR. JULIETTE B. BELL, PRESIDENT
UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND EASTERN SHORE
DR. AYODELE ALADE,
DR. ERNEST P. BOGER

"It was very much a hands-on experience," said Anderson, who did field work at a country club in Montgomery County. He'll be starting work soon at Columbia Country Club in Chevy Chase, Md.

Allen spent time at River Bend County Club in Great Falls, Va., where he's been invited back to work as an assistant pro starting in March 2013.

"One of the things I took away from the experience was learning to organize tournaments," Allen said. "It's not as easy as it might sound. It's important to do it right, because you are working in a business where people have high standards."

Watching from the third row as the newly minted graduates stepped forward to receive their degrees; Dillon described his emotions in one word: "Pride."

"It's what we're here for," Dillon said, "to produce graduates who are members of the PGA and who are going to be productive people in their lives."

The stellar academic performance of the charter class is not surprising, Dillon said, because "the one thing we have is that we get to know our students on a personal basis."

"We're involved in their personal lives well outside the classroom," Dillon said. And the students notice.

"Billy Dillon is a great teacher," Allen said. "His knowledge of the industry and his persistence in making sure we succeed is something I'll always appreciate." The golf management students were among 235 who received bachelor's degrees along with 29 who earned a master's degree and nine new Ph.D. recipients.

The class of 2012 heard from Dr. Louis W. Sullivan, a former U.S. Secretary of Health and Human Services for President George H.W. Bush and president emeritus of Morehouse School of Medicine in Atlanta.

Among family, friends and guests who witnessed the two-hour graduation exercises were officials from the PGA of America, the sanctioning body that authorizes UMES to offer the highly specialized course of study.

"I've had a great experience here," Brian Anderson said. "I grew up (in Westminster, Md.) playing golf. It was something I was good at and now I have a degree to make that work for me."

UMES is one of 20 universities in the country with such an undergraduate degree that combines instruction in the hospitality industry and playing competitive golf at the professional level.

Zach Allen of Baltimore said he valued the opportunity to be among the first group accepted into the program that launched in 2009.

"The prospect of being part of something new was just the kind of challenge I was looking for" in college, Allen said. "I think we feel we got a lot of personal attention from (the) faculty and I've learned a lot about the industry."

Six of the seven, including Allen and Anderson, graduated with honors.

Billy Dillon, the golf management program director, said on graduation day that six members of the class – Anderson and Allen among them – have jobs waiting for them, and the seventh is close to accepting an offer.

"It's hard to find good people in this profession," Dillon said, "and our guys are good."

Golf management students are enrolled year-round and must fulfill a requirement to do field work under the supervision of a working PGA professional.

Anderson, a "scratch" handicap golfer, said he learned a lot about merchandizing, including selecting the right inventory, displaying it in a way that makes it appealing and pricing it to sell.

AAGHOF INDUCTS FIRST SEVEN UMES PGM GRADUATES

WRITTEN BY: MALACHI KNOWLES
PUBLISHER, GOLFFOREANYONE.COM

Riviera Beach (USA), December 17, 2012: The University of Maryland Eastern Shore, founded in 1886, a renown research and doctoral degree granting institution on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, is a Historically Black University. The PGA of America's Professional Golf Management Program, created in 1975 at Ferris State University, Big Rapids, Mich., as the first university to gain PGA accreditation and offer the PGM curriculum was brought to UMES Past President Dr. Thelma B. Thompson's attention. The "PGA PGM Program" is a 4½-year structured college curriculum for aspiring PGA Professionals. The educational program is accredited by the PGA of America and includes extensive classroom studies and internships to succeed in the golf industry. With the support of her staff (Marshall Cropper, Dr. Ayodele Alade, Dr. Ernest P. Boger, etc.) and the AAGHOF leadership, Dr. Thompson set her sites on UMES offering the program. The application process began in 2003 to satisfy the State of Maryland and the PGA of America. In January 2008, with great pride, the University of Maryland Eastern Shore in the quaint town of Princess Anne, MD became the first historically Black University accredited by the PGA of America to offer the PGA Professional Golf Management Degree Program.

The entire "UMES PGM Program" was inducted into the AAGHOF in 2010. As AAGHOF Founder, I recall sending a letter to Dr. Thompson which stated in part: "It is with great pleasure that I inform you on behalf of the Board of Directors of the African American Golfers Hall of Fame (AAGHOF) of the selection of the 'UMES PGA Professional Golf Management Degree Program' to receive its 'Pioneer Award' and be inducted into the AAGHOF. The AAGHOF Selection Committee chose the UMES PGA Golf Management Degree Program to receive its prestigious award because it shares the overall vision for the entire University and its becoming the first Historically Black College and the 20th University accredited by the PGA of America in January 2008 to offer their Professional Golf Management Program."

(L-R STANDING) DR. AYODELE ALADE, DEAN, SCHOOL OF BUSINESS AND TECHNOLOGY, DR. ERNEST P. BOGER, DIRECTOR, DEPARTMENT OF HOTEL AND RESTAURANT MANAGEMENT; MALACHI KNOWLES, FOUNDER, AFRICAN AMERICAN GOLFERS HALL OF FAME/INNER CITY YOUTH GOLFERS', INC.; ANTHONY LONG, UMES PGM STUDENT; CHRISTOPHER PROSSER, INTERNSHIP COORDINATOR, UMES PGA GOLF MANAGEMENT PROGRAM; WILLIAM C. DILLON, UMES PGA GOLF MANAGEMENT PROGRAM DIRECTOR; NORMAN BLANCO, UMES PGM STUDENT; JAMES GARVIN, JR., CHAIR, AFRICAN AMERICAN COLLEGIATE & YOUTH GOLFERS HALL OF FAME.

Indeed, the AAGHOF co-hosted a dinner for the Inaugural PGA Professional Golf Management Program students (Zachary David Allen, Baltimore, MD; Brian Michael Anderson, Westminster, MD; Richard Chadwick Dailey, Salisbury, MD; Brett William Emrick, Scio, NJ; Lewis Laverne Schnauble III, Westminster, MD; Devan Michael Scott, Delmar, MD and Mark Simshauser, Chance, MD) on Thursday, December 13, 2012 at the Courtyard By Marriott, Ocean City, MD to kick-off the historic weekend. All seven students, Program Administrator William Dillon and Christopher Prosser, Intern Coordinator were formally inducted into AAGHOF with their shirts and pins. Fellow PGM students: Norman Blanco (inducted 2012), Anthony Long (inducted 2011) and African American Collegiate & Youth Golfers Hall of Fame Chair James Garvin, Jr. and Vice Chair Dr. Ernest P. Boger, Director, UMES Department of Hotel & Restaurant Management assisted with the induction.

Letters of commendation were delivered from Legendary Golfers Jack Nicklaus and Bob Murphy. Both Messrs. Nicklaus (2007) and Murphy (2011) have received the "AAGHOF Humanitarian Awards." Both Jack and Bob sent similar messages to Dr. Ernest P. Boger: "Congratulations once again to the students who have excelled in this program, especially those 2012 graduates who will be recognized as members of the African- American Golfers Hall of Fame at the first annual special AAGHOF luncheon on Thursday, December 13. On behalf of those who live and love the game of golf, I not only want to thank you for helping mold the next leaders of our industry, but also those who will shape the future of our country. Please share my best wishes for continued success with all those in attendance."

"You and the PGM staff are to be applauded for your leadership in the success of this important initiative and look forward to greeting you personally as the bright future of the UMES-PGA Golf Management degree program continues to unfold."

Congratulations to Dr. Thelma B. Thompson, Past President for starting the program under her watch and to Dr. Juliette B. Bell, President, University of Maryland Eastern Shore, Princess Anne, Maryland who presided over the first graduation on December 14, 2012. History was made at UMES!

Dr. Ayodele Alade, Dean, School of Business and Technology said during the induction and celebration dinner: "history was made at UMES!" The AAGHOF also shared a plaque to be presented to Dr. Bell that read: "The African American Golfers Hall of Fame & The African American Collegiate & Youth Golfers Hall of Fame Enshrines & Salutes the Professional Golf Management Degree Program at the University of Maryland Eastern Shore and Congratulates its Inaugural Graduation Class, August 2008 – December 14, 2012: Zachary D. Allen; Brian M. Anderson; Richard C. Dailey; Brett W. Emrick; Lewis Schnauble III; Mark Simshauser and Devan M. Scott" with Dean Alade. The plaque is signed by Malachi Knowles, Founder; Avis Brown-Riley, Chair, AAGHOF International Advisory Board; James Garvin, Jr., Chair, AAC&YGHOF and Dr. Ernest P. Boger, Vice Chair.

TOYOTA CUP CHAMPIONSHIP

On a blustery fall day the team of Neil Maurer and Bob Crowther from the Bayside Resort Golf Club took on the challenge of course, weather and their opponents, Rick McCall and Tyler Smith of the Wild Quail Golf Course in Dover, DE to capture the 2012 Toyota/Eastern Shore Golf Magazine professional team challenge matches. This final event of the year long competition was held at the Baywood Greens Golf Club in Millsboro, DE. Wild Quail jumped out to an early lead winning the first hole and the action was back and forth for the remainder of the front nine. After a seesaw battle and five lead changes Wild Quail took a 1 up lead heading into the back nine. Bayside quickly squared the match on 10 and lost it the very next hole after Ricky McCall sank a 30 footer for Birdie. Bayside then caught a little fire winning 13 and 14 to take a 1 up lead with 4 to play. The two teams stepped on the 18th tee all square and faced the toughest hole they would play all day. With an extremely tough hole location par was all you could ask for. Neil Maurer and Tyler Smith both sank five footers for par to send the match to extra holes, a first for this competition in the 19 year history of this great event. On the 19th hole of the competition Maurer and McCall both made two more great pars which sent the two teams back to the tee for the 20th hole of the match. The match concluded after Maurer's 5 foot putt finding the bottom of the cup and team Wild Quail could not match it. This event is a favorite for all professionals competing and couldn't be possible without the support of Ray Taranto and Bobby Vermillion. We look forward to competing in 2013 and beyond.....

SCOTT BAVARO

My name is Scott Bavaro, I am the Footwear and Equipment Sales Rep for Nike Golf. I have had the pleasure to be working for Nike Golf the last 10 years. Over that time, I have seen many different drivers come and go. This spring Nike Golf will be introducing the new Covert product line which will revolutionize the golf driver as we know it. The Covert product features:

- Unique cavity back design to promote optimal launch conditions while offering great feel and forgiveness

- Flexloft technology which allows the golfer to choose their own loft (8.5, 9.5, 10.5, 11.5, and 12.5). Independent from that you can also choose between 3 different face angles. This gives you 15 different positions to fit your game. If you are playing on a windy day, and feel like you need to have a lower trajectory, you can lower the loft on a matter of seconds. Or maybe you are playing on a golf course with damp fairways, and you want to maximize your carry, simply change the Flexloft setting to give you more loft!!

- NexCor technology in the face which gives you a huge sweet spot with ultra-fast ball speeds.

The Covert driver is available in a 430 cc Tour head, as well as a 460cc Performance head. Matching fairway woods and hybrids are also available.

If your New Years resolution is to hit it longer and straighter than your buddies, then do yourself a favor and buy the new Nike Golf Covert Driver!

MARYLAND STATE GOLF ASSOCIATION

The Maryland State Golf Association presented the 2012 Emmet Gary Scholarship recipients a total of $12,000 in scholarship money at the MSGA Annual Meeting. Each recipient is currently enrolled in the Turf Management program at the University of Maryland. Since 1969, there have been 151 recipients who have received scholarships totaling over $275,000. Many of the students have gone on to become golf course superintendents in Maryland and across the country.

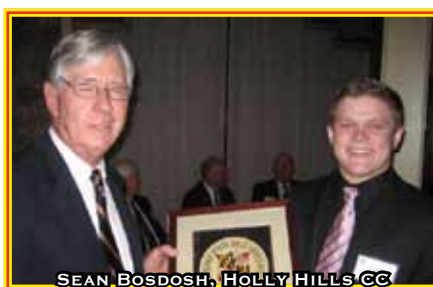

JOAN MCGINNIS, MSGA-WD
DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD RECIPIENT

In addition to the Emmet Gary Scholarships, the MSGA also honors two students annually who are employed by MSGA member clubs and/or their children, and to students having completed their junior year of high school with a bona fide connection to the game of golf. Mary Jordan Nogay was presented the $2,500 Dave King Scholarship as she excels in golf, in the classroom, and in community service. Nogay is a freshman at Presbyterian College and plays on their women's golf team. Charles Korir, a first generation college student at James Madison University, was also awarded $2,500 in scholarship money. Korir has caddied at both The Chevy Chase Club and Congressional Country Club. Students who receive MSGA Scholarship money may apply for a renewal each year of college.

GOLF COUPON BOOKS

NOW AVAILABLE!

The Delmarva Peninsula Golf Association has announced that their 2012-2013 Golf Discount Coupon Book is now available for local golfers to take advantage. The books sell for $40 and all of the proceeds go into the DPGA scholarship program. The coupon book generally pays for itself after several uses and golfers will continue to save on their golfing from now until the end of next year.

This year we have 39 different Eastern Shore golf courses participating in our coupon book. The coupon books are good through December 2013 and can be purchased at Nutters Crossing and Elks Golf Courses in Salisbury, MD, Hog Neck golf course in Easton, MD, Clearview at Horn's Point in Cambridge, MD, Eastern Shore Y & CC in Melfa, VA and Sussex Pines CC in Georgetown, DE. They can also be purchased by contacting Jack Slayton at 410-749-6685.

Each year the DPGA gives out between six to ten $2000 scholarships to eligible high school senior golfers to help them with their college expenses. If the students keep up their grades, the scholarships are renewed for up to 4 years. The sale of the books is the main fundraiser for the scholarship program. More information on the scholarship program is available at your local DPGA golf club or on the DPGA website at <http://home.comcast.net/~dpga-golf>

Along with the scholarship program, the DPGA runs junior golf tournaments during the summer which ends with the top four in each age bracket participating in a tournament championship.

5TH ANNUAL TOUR ON THE SHORE CHAMPIONSHIP!

The 5th Annual Tour on the Shore Championship was held the first weekend of November with a 2 day competition. Former PGA TOUR PRO James Black (featured in Golf Channels Uneven Lies-History of African American golf) addressed the contestants with a warm welcome and some inspirational words as the field went out to their first tee. Day 1 presented the golfers with some extremely difficult conditions with the wind blowing 25 plus miles per hour on the Palmer Course. In the Top Gun Division 0-5 Gross Scoring, Rehoboth Beach Club Champ Steven Harvey played steady all day and came into the clubhouse with a 4 stroke lead over Bay Club Champ Dana Copper and Shane Long as they both carded a 78, and Tour on the Shore Player of the year was in fourth place after his 79. Rookie of the Year Phillip Fenstermaker turned in an 80 and defending Tour Champion Brad Foxwell shot an 81. On day 2 all 4 in the final group stumbled, shooting in the 80's, meanwhile Foxwell and Fenstermaker battled back and fourth all day shooting lights out and coming in 1 under par on the challenging Nicklaus course that was playing close to 7000 yards.

When the dust settled we crowned Phillip Fenstermaker as our 2012 Tour on the Shore Champion. B flight (6-11) was won by Brendan Roberts - C Flight (12-20) Ronnie Hudson - D Flight (21-36) Paul Foskey

The 16th Annual Pink Ribbon Golf Classic was held under sunny skies on Friday, October, 19, 2012 at the Ocean City Golf Club, Berlin, MD. The event was hosted by the Eastern Shore Chapter of EWGA (Executive Women's Golf Association) and sponsored by Bahia Marina and the Poor Girl's Open. A hundred players turned out to support the American Cancer Society and raised over $21,000 in addition to in-kind donations of over $6,500. Along with the Steve Harmon Poor girl's Open and the other 8 Pink Ribbon Golf Events, the Pink Ribbon Classic has raised over a million and a half dollars since its' first golf tournament in 1997.

Congratulations to Joyce Graf, on her hole-in-one. Joyce, a member of EWGA Eastern Shore Chapter for three years, was playing the Cane Garden, Jacarunda Course in The Villages, Florida on October 30, 2012. On Hole #8, she borrowed a nine iron from her sister and hit the ball 90 yards for a hole-in-one. And, congratulations to Kathleen Matthews who advanced to the EWGA Championship finals in Fort Lauderdale.

The Eastern Shore Chapter of the Executive Women's Golf Association invites you to become a member. Visit us at www.ewgaeasternshore.com or at www.ewga.com and select Eastern Shore MD Chapter to join.

YOU KNOW THE DRILL

BY STEVE MENZ

Blaaaaaaawing

IN THE WIND

It is January and if you are playing winter golf, you can guarantee that you will be playing in windy conditions. Here is a good tip for those into the wind shots. Level your shoulders to the ground at address position and hit the shot with a three-quarter swing. With the shoulders being level you will reduce your launch angle and hit the ball lower. With a three-quarter swing you will reduce the amount of spin on your normal shot allowing for more control in your ball flight. Resist the urge to swing harder. The harder you swing the more spin you put on the ball. The more spin the less control. Go to the range and practice fighting your ball into the wind. Now you know the drill!

SHORE UP WITH THE GAME COACH

Now we can make a list and check it twice to be sure we receive our full share of enjoyment from the 2013 golf season. What is first on your list? Researchers recently asked more than 1,600 avid golfers to report how they would allocate $1,000.00 toward maximizing performance in preparation for a tournament of importance; respondents assigned $525 to receive lessons from a professional, $300 to practice fees and $175 to purchasing new equipment, a seemingly reasonable ratio. On the contrary, the study found golfers paying more than $1.3 billion in a calendar year on new putters, irons, woods and wedges while spending considerably less, approximately $200 million, on lessons from a pro. The outcome supports a golden paradox in psychology: Belief and behavior can make strange bedfellows. Why? Consider

The participants in the study identified practice and instruction as the best ways to get ready for an important golf event, but the focus and dedication required to master the psycho-physiological aspects of golf can be easily short-circuited by the reflection and enticement of shiny new titaniums. The investigator noted, "It's easier to buy a new club than to change one's swing." Additionally, seeking guidance from a professional or Game Coach may pose a threat to the fragile ego, narrowing the route to a lower handicap. Though athletes often know the right track, the alternate, beaten path has appeal. For a lucky '13, document what has been proven to work and pursue goals without regard for resistance. Despite the course, there is no easy way to the top.

THE MORAL: MATCH BEHAVIOR WITH BELIEF.

GOLF FITNESS - GOLF ELBOW

DR. PETE ZEMO

I was doing some research on golfer's elbow (median epicondylitis), a condition similar to tennis elbow, when I ran across a product that has been around for a while but of which I was unaware. Typically with sports injuries, the options are: rest it, take Motrin or go to the Doc, who will offer a steroid injection if you need quick relief. The last thing most athletes/golfers want to do is wear a brace, which will limit motion but expedite healing. The product is called KT tape. If you Google it, you will get all the info you need; apparently, athletes have been using it for months. Basically, it is a waterproof elastic tape (non-medicated) that when applied properly takes the pressure off pain receptors, reduces swelling and prevents muscle cramping. It supports tired/injured muscles and tendons and provides the support of a brace without restricting full range of motion. It is 100% cotton and stays on in water (for you golfer/swimmers) out there. We are using it at our gym for minor injuries to allow people to continue to do their thing. Proper application is very important; the website will flip you to YouTube videos that explain it all. It is not expensive and is available at places like Wal-Mart and CVS pharmacies. If you go online to examine it, go to the area called FAQ which will direct you to specific applications (elbow, shoulder, knee etc.). Personally, I hate steroid injections. This has worked well for our members and it's always exciting to find new non-intrusive ideas and products.

Tips FROM THE PRO!

GOLFercise

Happy New Year golf fans! Time to sit back on the couch and relax, reflect on the year's golf excellence, visit family, overindulge in crazy holiday foods, drink, sit some more, and overindulge some more. Time to let all that hard work slip into golf oblivion...time to let that well-earned 12 handicap slip up to a 20...time to let hours of practice slip into the spring shanks...I say NO!

Say it with me: "I will not let rust form on my golf game like a 68 Mustang. I will not start the spring with no golf shape. I will not shoot 10 shots over my average for the entire month of spring. I will not do it!!!"

This winter I want all of you to join me in an "almost everyday, kind of as much as possible, squeeze it in somehow dailyish" workout routine. And the best part...I don't care what kind of routine it is: pilates, yoga, jazersize, dance craze, aerobics, walking, skipping, running, biking, weight lifting, duck feeding, or any activity that you can come up with that's legal (preferably), and gets you up and moving even a little bit. I only ask you to try to do two things for me...

1. Move a little bit on purpose, and with a purpose. Just take a little time to get the blood flowing to stay loose and fit. Shopping and regular daily stuff does not count unless you move your body with exercise in mind while performing your normal routine. Walk through the stores with a pace...swing those arms...ankle weights...heavy hands...all that stuff (don't over do it). Take the stairs if you can, rather than the elevator or escalator!

2. Make at least 20 golf swings (with a golf club if possible) every time you exercise. Make the swings continuous...back and forth non-stop. Long, smooth swings in rhythm. Don't worry too much about form. Try to make as long and smooth a back swing as possible...smooth at the transition to forward swing...then smooth and effortless all the way through to a full finish...then all the way back to the top of the back swing again. Keep the motion going...smooth...rhythm...balanced. Make it like a move in your aerobics class! Just swinging the club can be a great workout!

I want us all to start out the spring ready to have our best golf season ever. Start out firing in great golf shape...not couch potato shape!

PLAY FAST SWING SLOW

BY ROB McDONALD, PGA

Over the years I have seen a few clients who had a difficult time pulling the trigger. They felt that they had to analyze every aspect of the shot and the swing before they could commit to swinging. It drove their playing partners nuts and they got invited into fewer and fewer games.

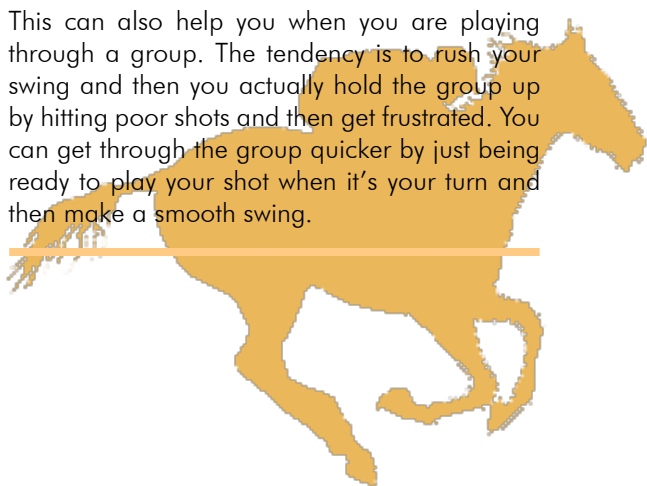

To help them I would invite them to join me for a late afternoon or early evening round of golf. The rule was that you had to play fast. I told them we had limited daylight so we have to think about our shot as we approach the ball in the cart; hop out, grab the club, hit the ball and move on. No time to over-analyze. Now I also stressed that we didn't have to swing fast, just play fast. After the round they were typically amazed at how much better they played when they didn't spend so much effort anguishing over the shot.

When I play in events with my fellow club professionals, speed of play is ever present on your mind. You must move at a quick pace. The key is to be efficient in your use of time so that you can keep your swing rhythm smooth. If you are efficient in your use of time, you have more than enough time to stick to your pre-shot routine in your long shots and have you enough time around the greens to take care of business since this is where the scoring really takes place. When playing in tournament conditions where the pace of play is quick and your body has a tendency to be a bit anxious, I make a concerted effort to slow down the turn on the take-away. By feeling a bit slower, I'm actually swinging at the normal, non-tournament pace. Going slower also helps in making sure the body is creating the motion and not the hands.

This can also help you when you are playing through a group. The tendency is to rush your swing and then you actually hold the group up by hitting poor shots and then get frustrated. You can get through the group quicker by just being ready to play your shot when it's your turn and then make a smooth swing.

After a day on the greens, come relax with a libation and a scrumptious meal in The River House Restaurant. The friendly atmosphere, exceptional service and culinary genius of award-winning Chef Michael Rork will provide the perfect ending to a perfect day.

Come visit, you belong.

JOSH PATTERSON

Josh Patterson is a local student from Berlin. He started in the PGA Golf Management Program at UMES in January 2009 and is part of the second cohort. Josh came to the program after working in the construction industry. "When construction and remodeling became less in demand, I really began to feel like it was time for me to pursue something different in my life," said Patterson.

"Josh has been pro-active in securing his internships", said Chris Prosser, UMES Internship Coordinator. His first internship was at Hershey Country Club in Hershey, PA where he was a vital part of outside operations. His second internship was completed locally at Glen Riddle Golf Club. Patterson added "Glen Riddle gave me the opportunity to work at a public and private course at the same time where my focus was mainly on the pro shop and handling sales. Also, having the opportunity to learn from PGA Professional, Rob McDonald, was a positive experience and will serve me well in the future". This past summer Josh interned at Deer Run Golf Club in Berlin where he focused on teaching the game of golf under PGA Professional, Bob Beckelman. "I taught clinics for kids and women as well as individual lessons for all types of people. I liked the feeling that I got while helping people find their potential and facilitating them achieving their personal best. I also experienced teaching the game to wounded soldiers through the Wounded Warriors Project, which was incredible", Patterson said. Josh currently offers lessons through the "A" Game Golf Academy.

Prosser added, "Josh is an outdoorsman and he would eventually like to end up employed at a club that offers hunting, fishing, and golf. He also has aspirations of learning more about marketing and apparel." Josh has a bright future and will be successful within the golf industry.

SUPPORT YOUR CLUB

As we kick off another new year, here is a good resolution to add to your list. Support your club! Just because you are a member of a golf club doesn't mean you are supporting it. Maybe this year you can ask not what your club can do for you but what you can do for your club. As members, we sometimes forget that golf is a business. We expect great service, great conditions and want to be treated a certain way and we should. But sometimes, as members, we forget that this relationship works both ways. If you're the kind of member who never brings guests and goes through the drive through, instead of having lunch at your club, you're not helping your club. As members, we have a responsibility to bring guests, tip the staff, play in member events and support the grill and pro shops. If you choose not to, then don't pull your pro aside and start complaining about course conditions and poor service because you are part of the problem. There are a number of great deals out there at a variety of clubs but remember just because you join one doesn't mean you are supporting it. As the saying goes the more you give; the more you will receive and your golf club is no different!

YOUR PATH TO PAR

RICHARD ROBINSON - INSTRUCTOR: THE ORIGINAL GOLF SCHOOL

"Anchoring" your putter to your body has found disfavor with golf's rule makers, but anchoring your game to your putter is still a fundamental principle of good scoring. After all, half of all strokes in the calculation of par are designated to putts.

The ability to putt has always been critical to good scoring. The techniques, equipment and attitudes of successful putters have universally attracted scrutiny, admiration, emulation, and occasionally rule changes. The "Old Man" Walter Travis and his center shafted "Schenectady" putter became America's first great champion by winning the United States and British Amateur Championship decades before Bobby Jones achieved such success with his trusty blade "Calamity Jane". Travis' reward for his innovation, skill, and audacity to beat the Brits, was to have his Schenectady design banned by the R&A. Half a century later golf's most graceful swinger, Sam Snead, straddled the line and stooped over to use a croquet technique. When Bobby Jones saw Snead putt he said, "Sam, it just doesn't look like golf" The rule makers agreed and straddling the line was banned. The resourceful Snead merely adjusted his stance to conform to the rules and continued to face the hole with his side saddle technique.

Putting is the simplest of golf strokes with the most nuanced techniques. The key to success is the ability to keep your approach simple. Anchoring the long putter was a "crutch" to simplicity. The mere fact that the putter is placed on the body in the same place every time guarantees two fundamentals. First, the set up will be consistent, the same position every stroke. Second, with the top of the grip anchored and the ball stationary, the angle of the putter shaft and path of the clubface at impact will be the same time and time and time again unless consciously manipulated. Good putters vary in style, technique and equipment, but they all set up consistently, and keep the top of the grip on a level plane through the stroke. Anchor your stroke with good fundamentals and it won't matter if the club is touching your body. Set up for good putts and good golf in 2013 and join us at the Original Golf School.

MISGA

The weather is always a factor for the Winter Interclub Shore Golf Associates (WISGA) which started in early November and will finish at the end of March. There are still a lot of MISGA golfers that brave the cold weather to get a chance to swing their club at that little white ball to see how far it goes. Always check with the host club to ensure the event will be held if the weather looks bad.

The rest of the schedule for WISGA is listed below:

1/10 Deer Run ; 1/17 Bear Trap; 1/24 Rum Pointe
2/7 Ocean City; 2/14 GlenRiddle Man'O War
2/21 Great Hope; 2/28 Bear Trap; 3/7 Sussex Pines
3/14 Deer Run; 3/21 Cripple Creek; 3/28 Nutters Crossing

MISGA members play a two man best ball of four with preferred drive with a shotgun start at 9:30am. If you have not signed up at your club to play by the Monday before the outing, call the host club to see if there is room for you to play.

— OLD-FASHIONED SERVICE —

Delmarva Printing is locally-owned, and the largest sheet-fed printer on the Eastern Shore.

Our presses and equipment are state-of-the-art, but we're a little old-fashioned in our service and attention to detail.

That's what our valued business partners expect from us, and that's what they get!

Delmarva Printing is proud to have been selected as the printer for Eastern Shore Golf Magazine.
