ESGM's 6TH YEAR Anniversary Recap!

It is amazing how fast time flies and how much ESGM has accomplished over the past six years. We have gone from 28 pages our first issue to 100 pages this issue and have doubled our circulation from 30,000 to 60,000 copies printed annually. The Eastern Shore Golf Magazine has been recognized by the PGA for its work and was awarded the 2013 Earle Helen Sports Media Award. This spring, ESGM was awarded the Publisher of the Year Award by the African American Golfers Hall of Fame in West Palm Beach, Florida in recognition of its outstanding coverage of the UMES PGA Golf Management Program.

THE TOUR ON THE SHORE AMATEUR GOLF SERIES

has held 100 stroke play events averaging fifty players per event with over five thousand rounds played and has injected over a quarter of a million dollars into the Eastern Shore golf courses that have hosted Tour on the Shore events. The Tour has provided a place for competition, camaraderie, and a place for friendships to form. Thanks to Under Armour, we have provided our Tour winners with nice UA gear and backpacks. Our other sponsors have afforded us the luxury of sending the top 64 players to an all-expenses paid two day golf trip to Bay Creek Resort for the Tour Championships each year. The four champions win a Myrtle Beach golf trip.

2008 ESGM CHAMPION WINS MYRTLE BEACH GOLF VACATION

Many thanks to Ray Taranto at ESGM for the wonderful vacation my family and I were able to enjoy this past April. Our oceanfront condo was fully equipped with a swimming pool, hot tub, laundry facility and a great staff! We were blessed with fantastic weather which not only enabled us to play golf at great courses such as Wicked Stick and Meadowoods but also much more! We visited the IMAX Theatre, Ripleys Aquarium, played several rounds of putt-putt, went to Brooke Green Gardens, toured the Battleship North Carolina and ate at a few good restaurants. My kids also enjoyed a helicopter ride. We spent a great deal of time on the beach lifting shells (my kids thought the gray-black ones were special) and playing football. As a final note, I should mention that my wife and I honeymooned in Myrtle twenty one years ago. This vacation served as a reminder of our commitment to one another and as a cute perk, we dined one evening at our favorite restaurant in Myrtle, Ho Wan on 5th Avenue and S. Kings Highway.

MAY GOD BLESS ALL AT ESGM AND YOUR READERS.
DANA COOPER & FAMILY

THE EASTERN SHORE GOLF HALL OF FAME was formed to honor those that have excelled in the field of golf here on the shore. Each December we honor the individuals inducted at Salero on the Beach oceanfront venue in Rehoboth Beach, Delaware with an amazing evening of dinner, dancing and award ceremony. During the ceremony, we give two scholarships in the inductee's honor. We have given $5,000.00 in scholarships to Wor-Wic's Turf Management Program and to the University of Maryland Eastern Shore's PGA Golf Management Program.

ESGM ANNUAL UMES SCHOLARSHIP

Jon Myles Seward, a junior in the Professional Golfers of America (PGA) Golf Management Program at the University of Maryland Eastern Shore (UMES), was awarded the Eastern Shore Golf Magazine (ESGM) Scholarship on May 14, 2014 during the Cropper Cup Banquet at Harrisons Harbor Watch Restaurant in Ocean City, Maryland. Jon, a Fort Washington, Maryland native, was awarded the scholarship for his academic career successes and playing ability. Jon is a Dean's List student, UMES Golf Team Member and President of the PGA Golf Management Student Association (PGMSA). He is currently completing his second 3-months internship at River Bend Country Club in Great Falls, Virginia under the direction of The PGA Middle Atlantic Section President, John Madden. John was also the guest speaker at this year's Cropper Cup Banquet.

ESGM ANNUAL WOR-WIC SCHOLARSHIP

"It's because of people like you that make it possible for someone such as myself to make changes in our lives at a later age. Being awarded this scholarship, due to your donation, is just what I needed to help get me through my last couple semesters. it is with my whole heart that I thank you! Not only have you helped my future, but my son's as well. Again I thank you and look forward to someday shaking your hand and telling you that in person."

Sincerely, Craig Morse

120 years ago, Ball's inspection system encompassed 75% of American railroads and kept 125,000 miles of railroad running safely. Any minor fault could result in catastrophe. Which is why a dependable timepiece like Ball Watch is so important in an environment that features truly adverse conditions.

The watch that once ran America's railroads now helps the world's explorers keep time. There is no timepiece that is as rugged and dependable.

“Accuracy is everything when you set the Official Railroad Standard.”

BIRTHPLACE & HOMETOWN: I was born in Washington, DC and grew up in Silver Spring/Rockville, MD. Matt and I lived in Poolesville, MD for 22 years where we raised our daughters, Megan and Michele. Dreaming our entire married life of living at the beach, we moved to West OC in 2007. WHO INTRODUCED YOU TO GOLF? My husband Matt, who is a long time golfer. I occasionally would get out and play a couple of holes with him a few times a year. I didn't start playing regularly until I moved here and I joined EWGA. HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS: I played Basketball and Softball in high school. GOLFING HIGHLIGHTS: So far, I won the 9-hole WDGA Ladies 9 hole tournament in 2012. WHY YOU LOVE EWGA: EWGA provides an enjoyable social environment of organized golf activities, as well as networking opportunities for women. I joined the Eastern Shore Chapter 6 years ago as a way to play more regularly and to meet other women. I am now on the EWGA Eastern Shore Chapter Board, and serve as the League Chairperson. In the 6 years I've been involved in EWGA I have seen the membership grow from 150 to over 300 women. We now have over 220 women playing in 10 different leagues at a variety of courses in the area. We are extremely fortunate to have so many beautiful and challenging courses in and around Ocean City, and the pros and owners have really worked with us to welcome the EWGA ladies to their courses. I have really enjoyed the variety of opportunities to play golf, but more importantly the many friends I have made as a result of this great game. CAREER/ CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: I work part-time as a nurse paralegal for a large multi-national law firm. I also assist my husband, Matt when he conducts his financial education workshops around the area. FAVORITE FOOD: Chocolate Peanut Butter Cake; and anything Matt cooks. FAVORITE FOOTBALL TEAM: The Washington Redskins FAVORITE TV SHOW: 24 FAVORITE MOVIE: Gone With the Wind HOBBIES: golfing, biking, reading, gardening, and beach/boating. FAVORITE GOLF COURSE: Ocean City, Newport Bay. FAVORITE PRO GOLFER: Arnold Palmer, not just for his achievements in golf, but for everything he is as a person. If you haven't watched the recent 3 part special "Arnie", you owe it to yourself to do so. I also enjoy rooting for the exciting young talent, Jordan Speith. FAMILY: I am married to Matt Repass, managing partner with PKS Investment Advisors with offices in Salisbury, Lewes and Ocean City. We have 2 grown daughters, Megan and Michele, who live in North Bethesda, MD. WHERE DO YOU SEE YOURSELF IN TEN YEARS? In 10 years, I hope to be retired, playing plenty of golf, and striving for a handicap in the single digits. I also want to travel. There are so many destinations on my bucket list. I hope to take an annual excursion, in the US or Europe; with an occasional side trip to play golf. ANYTHING PEOPLE DON'T KNOW ABOUT YOU? My ancestry traces back to the original settlers of The State of Maryland. Thomas Hodges emigrated from England on the Arc and Dove settling on St Clement Island in Southern Maryland in 1634. I was also fortunate to graduate from high school as Title IX was coming into law. I received a full athletic scholarship for basketball to The Catholic University of American in Washington, DC. I was a 4-year starter scoring over 1200 points and grabbing more than 1300 rebounds during my career. I was honored to be the first woman inducted into Catholic University's Athletic Hall of Fame; where I joined my grandfather, Bill Howell; great uncle, Fred Rice, Jr; and great-grandfather, Fred Rice, Sr. in this select club.

2014 SUMMER CRUSH CLASSIC

Alison Sappington & Karen Thomasello

Holly Hudson, Karen Thomasello, Nancy Fortney, Barb Wilson, Patty Cunningham, Sue Trombino

The Lower Shore Society of Women Leaders and the Lower Shore Chapter of the American Red Cross is currently forming teams for the 2nd Annual Summer Crush Golf Classic, which takes place September 17th at Deer Run Golf Club. The tournament will replenish the local Red Cross Chapters Disaster Relief Fund.

Last years 1st Annual Summer Crush Classic was an overwhelming success with great weather, great prizes, continental breakfast and a delicious lunch provided by Eming's BBQ. The committee was presented with an award for raising the most funds for one fundraiser in 2013!

Once again sponsors and participants will enjoy a pre-golf cocktail mixer at Jive Martini Bar at 83rd & Coastal hwy. in Ocean City on August 27 from 5-7 pm, featuring the "Summer Crush Cocktail". Potential golfers and sponsors are welcome to attend and register.

This year the tournament will also feature a women's division with separate and unique prizes just for the ladies. In addition, golfers will have a chance to win a car with a special hole-in-one competition.

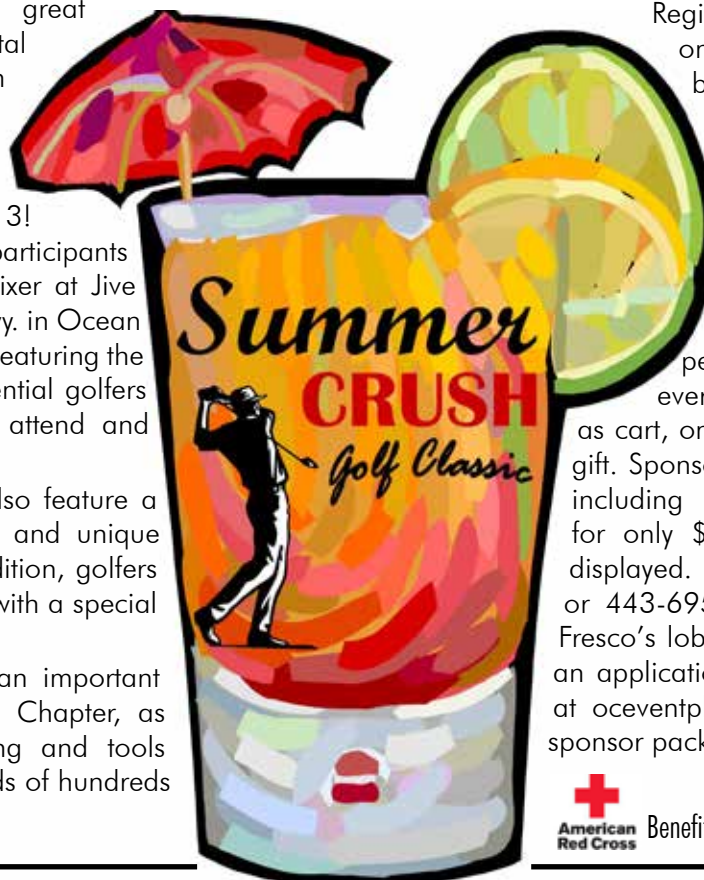

The Summer Crush Classic is an important fundraiser for the Lower Shore Chapter, as it funds the equipment, training and tools necessary to respond to the needs of hundreds of house fire, flood and storm victims every year, providing clothing, food and shelter. The local Red Cross Chapter serves Wicomico, Worcester, Somerset, Accomack and Northampton counties on the Eastern Shore.

The tournament will be lively and fun with plenty of competitions and chances to win fantastic prizes like Hotel & Dinner packages, jewelry, trips, a $500 raffle and more.

Registration will open at 7:30 a.m. on September 17th A continental breakfast will be served followed by tee off at 9:00 a.m.

A delicious awards luncheon will be served in conjunction with a Chinese auction, 50/50 drawing, door prize drawings, and the winners circle presentations. A modest $100 per player registration includes everything mentioned above as well as cart, one mulligan, range, balls and tee gift. Sponsorship opportunities are available, including affordable Tee Sponsorships for only $100, with your business name displayed. Call Karen at 410-430-3227 or 443-695-5044 with questions. Stop by Fresco's lobby at 83rd St & Coastal Hwy for an application to compete/sponsor or email at oceventplanner@gmail.com to receive a sponsor packet or foursome application.

The WPGA team match finals were played on June 10th at River Marsh Golf Course at the Chesapeake Bay Hyatt in Cambridge. Talbot Country Club played Ocean City Yacht and Country Club in the gross team final. Kings Creek played Jonathan's Landing in the net team final. Unfortunately, the matches were rained out mid-way through. However, the gross team finalists' matches were tied after 14 holes and because they had played the majority of the match, the teams were declared co-champions for the season.

BAGGIN' IT

By Rob McDonald

BY ROB McDONALD, PGA

I may ruffle a few feathers with what I am about to say, but so be it. Every course or club has them. Almost everyone in the club or at the course who plays in tournaments knows who they are. It's difficult for them to hide. Their name is on or near the top of the results sheet of every event. They are the sand baggers. They guard their handicap as if it were the goose that lays the golden eggs. Because, basically it is just that.

Now I am all for the USGA Handicap System. It makes golf one of the few games where players of different abilities can compete on a fairly equal basis. But, the USGA's formula for handicaps is designed so that you should only actually play to your handicap about 25% of the time. It is a measure of your potential, not your average. It is also designed to give lower handicappers a slight advantage as a way of rewarding those who work on their game to get better.

From the moment I first picked up a club, my goal was to get better and that desire has never left. I have also given lessons to 90 year olds who still want to work to get better. I admire that and if I live that long I will probably still be trying to get better. It is after all, a game of a lifetime. The handicap system is a great tool to measure your improvement. Sand baggers use the system as a tool to win prize money in events. The term sand bagger has it's origin in the nineteenth century, when robbers and hoodlums filled their socks with sand and used it as a weapon to beat their victims.

Why do I let it bother me? Why bring this subject up? I bring it up because sand baggers can ruin a tournament program. Low handicap players will not enter because they feel they have no chance to win. Honest players in all of the flights will feel the same way. Golf is a game of honor and integrity. Golf is still the only game where you are your own referee. You call your own penalties when they occur. You post your honest score. All of them, high and low and let the formula do it's job. You enter tournaments and leagues to test your skills and see how they match up to others. You enter tournaments and leagues to meet other golfers and enjoy the friendly competition. You enter tournaments and leagues with the desire to win, but if sand bagging isn't controlled, you won't have tournaments or leagues in which to play.

Endless GOLF

BY BOBBY VERMILLION

THE REALITY FOR MOST GOLFERS

I had an epiphany the other day just before a golf match. As we were discussing (negotiating) the match for that day I realized that I have been playing golf with this group for over twenty years and all of us are about the same handicap as we were twenty years ago. There are minor differences between us as far as handicaps go but overall we are all pretty much the same. Twenty years ago I was a better golfer than a few in the group and I am still a better golfer today. Twenty years ago a few in the group were better than me and they still are better than me. Some of us have played more golf, have better equipment, taken lessons, spent hours on the range, but for the most part our handicaps have remained the same. Basically, we are all limited to how good we can be at this game to a certain degree by our athletic ability. You can go from an 18 handicap to a 14 handicap or a 10 handicap to a 7 handicap but if you have been playing golf for over five years, you are unlikely to go from an 18 to a 10 or from a 10 to a 5. Look at the PGA Tour, do you think Hunter Mahan will ever be as good as Tiger Woods or Phil Mickelson? Probably not. So remember, when it's all said and done....it's just a game for most of us. Focus on the good shots and good company. Don't let the game you love drive you crazy.

YOUR PATH TO PAR

RICHARD ROBINSON • INSTRUCTOR: THE ORIGINAL GOLF SCHOOL

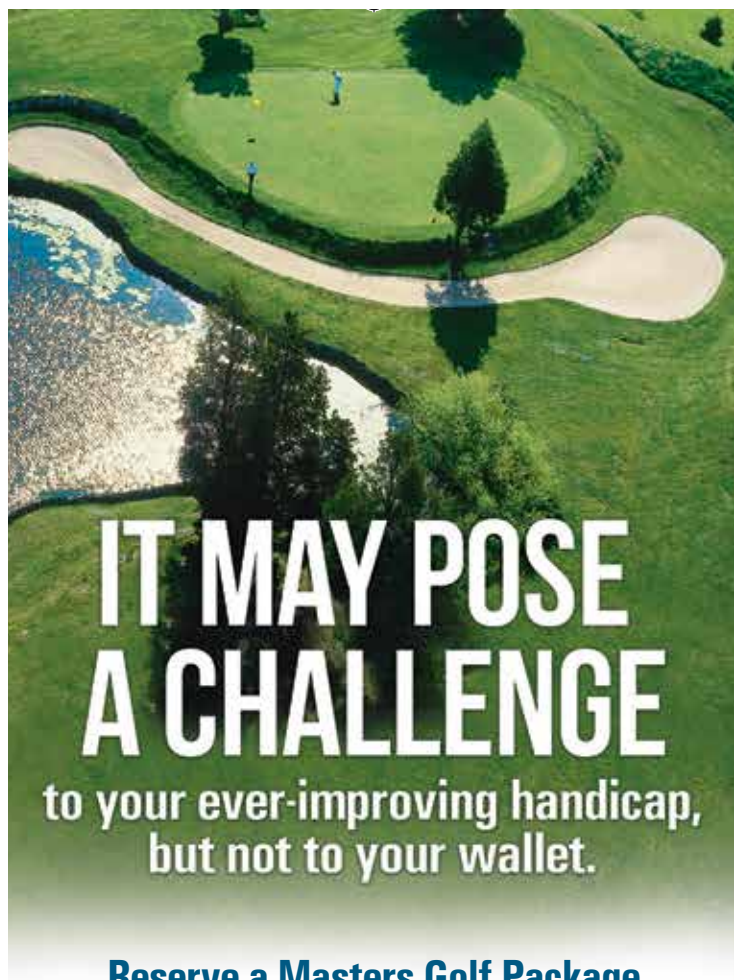

Are you stymied? Prior to 1952 the rules of golf permitted using your ball as an obstacle to block or “stymie” your opponent’s path to the hole, in match play. If your ball came to rest between the hole and your opponent’s ball you were allowed to leave it in place and “stymie” or force your opponent to figure out a method to circumvent the obstacle your ball created. Options to the stymie included putting around the ball, chipping over it, conceding the putt and removing the obstacle ball from the green, or even playing a carom shot off the ball. In the last instance, if your ball caused the stymie and was knocked in the hole by your opponent’s following shot, your ball was considered “holed” saving you one stroke. The stymie was removed from the rules of golf in 1952, and relegated to a position of historical trivia. However, I would like to resurrect the stymie as a great way to improve your putting.

The Stymie-Putt drill will improve your ability not only to read the green, but more importantly to feel the track and pace of the putt. Place a ball on the high side edge of the cup. Scatter 6 balls in a circle 4 to 10 feet surrounding the hole. Now putt each ball in the circle, into the cup aiming at the “Stymie” ball. The goal is to roll your putt to the “Stymie”. For all uphill and side hill putts the result you seek is to roll the ball so it slows and drops into the hole before striking the “Stymie”. Balls coming down the slope should strike the “Stymie”, knock it in the hole, and even follow it, so both balls are holed on the same shot. As you practice this drill you will begin to link the chain of direction, duration, and deflection that define each putt’s path and pace. The best part is you will do it intuitively and improve your linear precision and non-linear perception. It is simple and effective.

If you are stymied in any part of your game, join us at The Original Golf School and find the key to unlocking your potential for better golf!

Golf, much like everything else, has it's share of trends. From adjustable clubs& GPS units, nothing has taken over like the simple new-found popularity of spikeless golf shoes. According to Adidas "it's not the sole of a shoe, it's the footprint of a revolution". When Fred Couples (collective sigh from the gallery) was spotted at the 2010 Masters wearing a pair of Ecco Street Premier shoes, spikeless shoes accounted for less than 10% of the market. Today, that number is close to fifty percent with some industry insiders predicting seventy-five percent within a year or two. Recreational golfers enjoy the comfort, versatility and economics of the product. Spikeless golf shoes are available from all major companies including some of the newer golf shoe companies like New Balance and Oakley. Whether it's the Footjoy Contour Casual, the Nike FI and Ascend, the ECCO Biom, or Adidas Gripmore and Adizero Sport, Ruddo's Golf in West Ocean City, Fenwick Island, and Lewes DE have over 1,500 pair for you to try on!

BY PETE ZEMO

Physical fitness for any sport involves a combination of strength, flexibility and good cardio-pulmonary function. This is true of golf as well, although the specific levels of training vary depending on the sports activity. One area that golfers often neglect is aerobic fitness; the more you want to improve your game, the more important these areas become. Is just walking or jogging enough? It can be, but it depends upon the intensity. You must work hard enough to improve heart/lung function and this necessitates a level of energy expenditure greater than just casual walking. When you are starting and out of shape, gentle aerobic exercise will suffice. However, as you get more fit, the intensity level must increase. The big difference between walking and jogging/running is time. To get good cardio-pulmonary stimulation, you usually have to walk for a longer time than running. In both cases, maximum improvement occurs when you push yourself to near anaerobic levels (getting breathless). It goes without saying that all of this presupposes medical clearance to pursue such a program. One of the types of cardio training that has become popular in our fitness center is interval training. This can get you in aerobic shape faster and with much less time expenditure. Let's look at how this works.

If you are a walker, the principle is to walk at a pace until you are warmed up –usually 5 to 10 minutes- and then increasing your walking pace over a 30-60 second time period until you feel yourself approaching breathlessness. Once you are there, you drop back to your normal walking pace for a few minutes (usually 2), which allows your heart rate to drop and accomplishes "recovery". Next, you repeat this whole cycle. Most exercisers do this 8 times; that has been shown to be about all you need. The time it takes is not great (in this case about 20 minutes after warmup). The same principle applies to runners and the same technique can be used for any form of exercise modality. I personally like to use the stationary upright bike because there is no impact or weight bearing, so there is less knee/hip trauma. However, the key is intensity; as you start to get more and more breathless, you will know the intensity level is high enough. Interval training of this type has been shown to get you in heart/lung shape faster than endurance training (running or walking at the same speed for long periods) and also is excellent for the older person trying to improve fitness.

Again, as with all forms of fitness training, medical clearance is critical and using proper form applies to walking and running as well as strength training. If you are unsure of anything, my repeated advice pertains – talk to a qualified trainer. It is always worth the time and trouble.

ANTHONY LONG AWARDED THE 2014 CROPPER CUP

The Cropper Cup Banquet is held annually and serves as the venue for recognizing PGA Golf Management seniors, outstanding students in the program and, of course, the Cropper Cup Champion. During the academic year, PGA Golf Management students compete in tournaments and are awarded points for their performance. The points system is fashioned after The FedEx Cup on The PGA Tour. The student who finishes with the most points is crowned the Cropper Cup Champion. Anthony Long, a graduating senior from Washington, DC, won the 2014 title. There have been 6 named Cropper Cup Champions since the inception of the UMES PGA Golf Management Program.

The Cropper Cup is named for Marshall J. Cropper, Director of the UMES Golf Academy. The UMES Golf Academy is open to all university students and the surrounding community in an effort to introduce and promote the game of golf. Marshall is also the Coach of the UMES Men's Golf Team and has served as the Tournament Chair for the Art Shell Celebrity Golf Tournament held annually since 2006. Marshall was also instrumental in the addition of the PGA Golf Management Program to the line-up of academic offerings at his alma mater. He graduated from UMES (then Maryland State College) in 1967 and went on to play professional football with the Pittsburgh Steelers and Washington Redskins. Marshall earned his Master's Degree in 1975 from National Graduate University and was inducted into the UMES Athletic Hall of Fame in 1982.

THE MORAL: AND A CHILD SHALL LEAD!

SHORE UP WITH THE GAME COACH

Carson Lovett, MA Sport Psychology

Congratulations Michelle Wie, 2014 U.S. Women's Open Champion; ironically, she may owe a special thanks to eleven year old golf sensation Lucy Li, and athletes of all ages benefit from the connection. Li, the youngest golfer ever to qualify for the U.S. Open, shot an eight over par first round and when asked to comment on her performance she highlighted being a mere one over par for the final fifteen holes rather than focus on the seven over par start. Li noted even the best golfers in the world shoot double and triple bogeys; she simply moves on to the next shot with little care for past results, and Sport Psychologists and Game Coaches say ah ha!

Michelle Wie, also a child phenomenon who turned professional at thirteen, faced the first years on tour targeting the PGA, a pressure-packed journey for the kid inside the superstar. Perhaps the lofty goals over-stimulated Wie making every shot a powder keg, stunting growth and development, extinguishing the joy that attracted her to the game. On Open Championship Sunday 2014, Wie scores a double bogey with a three shot lead on the sixteenth hole and told reporters she laughed about it after the fact, saying "things happen," sounding like a carefree kid, like Lucy Li. On the seventeenth green Wie strokes a twenty foot birdie to seal the first major championship victory of her career and puts to rest eleven years of soaring expectations, as a poised and patient eleven year old reminds the world to have fun while golfing.

Without question, maturity and a change in putting style helps Wie maximize potential; Lucy Li deserves a round of applause for showing the way to play: Free.

BIRTHPLACE & HOMETOWN: Salisbury, MD WHO INTRODUCED YOU TO GOLF? A good friend of mine that I graduated with, Jeff Heineken. He used to come get me off the jobsite when I was working construction and get me to play 9 holes in the afternoons HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS: Baseball, Soccer and Basketball (went to states in Baseball and Soccer) GOLFING HIGHLIGHTS: After playing golf for only one year I played and won the first Club Championship at Nutter's Crossing. Approximately one month after that I played in my first professional event at Montgomery Village Country Club at the Assistant's Championship. I shot a 71 and was tied for the lead after the first day. I think the pressure got to me on the second day and I shot a 77 but I believe I finished in the top 15! CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: I guess my biggest highlight is the fact I've been at the Bay Club for the past 19 years and that's not seen that often these days in any industry. While here I've worked for two different ownerships and two different management companies. It's been a great experience working for them all. Needless to say I've learned a great deal about different styles of operating a golf club. I think these changes over the years have helped me grow as a golf professional and have helped me become more adaptive to change. FAVORITE FOOD: Seafood of any kind works for me! FAVORITE FOOTBALL TEAM: Baltimore Ravens FAVORITE TV SHOW: How do they do it? Golf Channel FAVORITE MOVIE: Good Will Hunting HOBBIES: Woodworking, wakeboarding, surfing, camping, etc. FAVORITE GOLF COURSE: Robert Trent Jones in Manassas, Virginia FAVORITE PRO GOLFER: Back when he was playing it was Paul Azinger but with active players I'd have to say Tiger Woods. He's just great to watch FAMILY: I have a beautiful wife, Jennifer that has kept me around now for 14 years. We have a wonder son, Justin that I am extremely proud of. He is a great student at school and likes to read and learn. We've been in Salisbury since we were married. My wife is a special education teacher at Vienna Elementary and loves what she does. Salisbury works great for us because in the morning we each go opposite directions. WHERE DO YOU SEE YOURSELF IN TEN YEARS? My goal would be to still be in the golf business – I do love what I do and I enjoy teaching and growing the game. ANYTHING PEOPLE DON'T KNOW ABOUT YOU? Probably most people don't know that I started out playing golf left handed and got to be a 12 handicap after playing golf for four months. All my friends were hitting it by me so I switched to right hand and hit about 500 balls every day. After 8 months I turned professional with a 2 handicap.

TOOLS OF THE TRADE "DIVERSIFY YOUR SCORING CLUBS"

BY STEVE MENZ

If you want to have a better short game, take a look at your wedges. Hopefully you have at least 2 to 3 specialty wedges in your bag. I am talking about a sand, lob and gap wedges. Sand wedges normally range in the 54-56 degree range lob wedges normally 58-60 degrees and gap wedges are normally 50-52 degrees in loft. Even if you only have 2 specialty scoring wedges in your bag make sure they have different degrees of bounce. I like to keep a 56 degree sand wedge with 12 degrees of bounce and a 60 degree lob wedge with 6 degrees of bounce to give me better options around the green. A pretty good rule of thumb is that if you are on a tight lie i.e.; fairway, approach or fringe and you need some loft to hit a shot use a club with very little bounce like the 60 degree with 6 degrees of bounce. This will ensure the club shouldn't bounce into the ball hitting it thin and running across the green like a scalded dog. It is also useful in most bunker situations. If I happen to be in the rough around the green and the ball is sitting up, tend to favor a club with more bounce to make sure the club doesn't slide too far under the ball during impact. The extra bounce will help the ball get up quickly in that situation. I also like a club with more bounce in very heavy sand bunkers while I favor a club with very little bounce in a bunker with very little sand. Understanding the properties of the wedges in your bag will make you more efficient around the greens. If I am unsure of the lie I usually take all of my wedges and possibly a 7, 8 or a 9 iron to the location to make sure I have a club for all situations. More often than not I see amateurs walk to their ball with only one club and it is usually a sand wedge. Take the time to practice your short game with various clubs and you will diversify your short game. A sharp short game is the fastest way to improve your score every time you play!

“YOU KNOW THE DRILL!”

ENGAGE YOUR CORE

Even though the PGA has reluctantly decided to ban the anchoring of putters to the body by the year 2016, it doesn't mean you can't use the information to make more putts. Try engaging your core during putting strokes or simply, rotate your shoulders and belly to stroke the putter. This practice will eliminate hands and wrists from the stroke allowing you to be more consistent keeping your putts on their intended line. Practice using an alignment stick in the back of your putter grip anchored into your belly to achieve the proper feeling of engaging your core. You will become much more consistent and now you know the drill!

MIKE MAGICMAN KAMINSKAS PGA

Mike "MagicMan" Kaminskas, PGA is General Manager and Director of Instruction at the Severna Park Golf Center in Arnold, Maryland. If you have any questions or comments feel free to contact him at 410.647.8618 or info@severnaparkgolf.com

It's that time of year. The schools are out and the kids are chomping at the bit to do something for the summer. If they haven't already started playing why not introduce them to the game of a lifetime? I'd like to spend a few minutes talking about something near and dear to my heart... Junior Golf. For many reading this article they have kids already playing. Some of you are wondering how do I get my child started? Hopefully I will give you some insight as a PGA instructor who has taught thousands of kids as well as played in a host of junior golf events myself.

I see junior golfers in basically one of three areas to start out: Little ones 2-5 years old, Young beginners 6-9 years old and then the geriatrics of the group the 10-16 year olds. Before you read any further, here is the key statement to learning as a junior. You know your kids the best! That being said, you may be the right person to start your kids or you might look for some professional help. In either case, ensuring the kids learn the fundamentals of the game while having fun are paramount to the successes they will have as their golfing careers progress.

For the youngest of thrashers, it is all about just letting them have fun while putting safety first! If it is big plastic clubs from your local chain store or custom fit clubs (don't laugh, yes, I've seen it) this age group is all about FUN! The thrill of just making contact is what it's all about. One of my favorite things to do with this age group is to fill up water balloons and let them swing away! Sure it just seems like goofing off, but you are actually working on their coordination skills and it's a lot more fun than swinging and missing a ball on a hot day. Guaranteed the kids will hit the water balloons!!

The 6-9 year old group is the one where I think most people begin their junior golf days. Here the kids are able to concentrate and are effective learners being able to match the mechanics of the swing to what they see in the swings of seasoned golfers.

For this age group, instructors tend to focus on the fundamentals of the game. Drilling into them the proper grip, stance, posture and swing mechanics to shorten the learning curve. Even with golf professionals it is most often the fundamentals where swing flaws creep in, so the sooner we learn the proper techniques, the easier and more fun the game becomes!

Finally, the oldest of the junior groups. This group is made up of such a variety of players that it is pretty much a crap shoot as to what to expect. From kids who have been playing on junior golf tours for several years to those that are just beginning. As an instructor I like to see the kids leave this age group with a well-rounded golf game. They should have a firm understanding of the golf swing but just as important if not more is how to behave on a golf course. They should know the rules of the game and follow the etiquette so that they can play with anyone.

So which road do you take? There are hundreds of camps, clinics, and private instructors available.

The answer to that lies at the beginning of the article. You know your child the best. You know how they learn and what you expect them to get out of their junior golf experience. I've taught both individual private lessons for juniors as well as hosted a golf camp with over 250 kids in a session. The key is to get the right fit for the junior. With the right fit all are effective ways of learning. As the skill level of your junior becomes greater you might even want to get them involved with the many junior golf tours that are available today. A simple search on the internet will yield thousands of results but the Maryland State Golf Association as well as the Middle Atlantic Section of the Professional Golfers Association have programs designated specifically with the junior golfer in mind.

The bottom line is golf is meant to be fun. It is one of the few sports that can be played by kids and adults all on the same playing field. So if you really want to give your kids something to do this summer. Why not give them the experience of a lifetime and introduce them to the game of golf.

BIRTHPLACE & HOMETOWN: I was born in Cincinnati, Ohio. Up until 5th grade I moved around between Ohio, Delaware and California. After that we settled into Rehoboth Beach and I consider that my hometown. WHO INTRODUCED YOU TO GOLF? When we moved to Rehoboth, our house was located on the 13th hole of Rehoboth Beach Country Club. My parents soon started to play and they took me out to play. Shortly after that I started to work for Ron Barrows at RBCC and have been working in and at the game ever since. HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS: Golf GOLFING HIGHLIGHTS: I set the points record at RBCC Men's Day with 59 points. It was a round I will never forget. After the 5th hole I was 3 over par and not happy. After my 11th hole I was 3 under and very happy. At the end of the day it was 67 and I recorded 3 eagles and 6 birdies. That day I learned that you need to play golf in the moment and you never know what will happen on the golf course. CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: I have enjoyed some local success in the Toyota Cup and other events through the years. I have always been good at picking great partners! I've been fortunate to be able to travel and play golf at some special places with great friends. FAVORITE FOOD: I like most everything, but a good steak tops the list. FAVORITE FOOTBALL TEAM: Cincinnati Bengals FAVORITE TV SHOW: I watch some shows and love being able to catch up with shows with on demand or Netflix. I think my favorite show is any Sunday of a major championship with the Master's being number 1. FAVORITE MOVIE: Too many to pick one, but I would say comedies are my favorite. I have watched a number of movies many times and still laugh every time. HOBBIES: Fishing, Beach, Travel, Music FAVORITE GOLF COURSE: My favorite course is Corales, a private facility at the Puntacana resort in the Dominican Republic. It is a Tom Fazio design that has some breathtaking views of the ocean. Tom Fazio and Donald Ross are my top two course architects. FAVORITE PRO GOLFER: Growing up I always followed Fred Couples. Now days I enjoy watching events when Tiger is playing. It is nice to see someone challenge records and I look forward to seeing the next player who challenges Tiger's marks. FAMILY: My parents still play golf at RBCC and live on the course. I live in Rehoboth with my wife Meggin of 20 years and two daughters Polly and Peyton. Polly has started looking at colleges and will graduate high school next year. Peyton is two years behind her. I guess I will be in the business a few more years. WHERE DO YOU SEE YOURSELF IN TEN YEARS? I hope to still be working at the Rookery and enjoying my life in slower lower Delaware. At some point I may retire to an island, but right now I am having too much fun living and working here. ANYTHING PEOPLE DON'T KNOW ABOUT YOU? About 7 years ago I became a PGA Magazine Ambassador. Through the Ambassador program I have met golf professionals from all over the world. The program has provided me access to many great golf destinations. The travel department at PGA magazine is constantly looking for new and exciting places. Because of the program I am now a good source of information for golf travel. Also, if I have not been to the destination you are interested in, I still may know someone who has. I have enjoyed my time traveling on the Ambassador trips, while visiting some of the best golf courses in the world.
