DELMARVA PENINSULA GOLF ASSOCIATION 1929-2015

It is the belief of the Delmarva Peninsula Golf Association, "that golf activities can be promoted through organized effort on the Delmarva Peninsula, and that these activities will foster a spirit of fellowship and goodwill, as well as mutual understanding among the citizens of the communities of the Delmarva Peninsula."

THE DELMARVA PENINSULA GOLF ASSOCIATION, EASTERN SHORE GOLF MAGAZINE AND RAY TARANTO HAVE JOINED FORCES TO CONTINUE THE LONG TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE IN GOLF HERE ON THE SHORE.

RAY TARANTO

"I am very excited and proud about the partnership with the DPGA and ESGM. The DPGA has been the cornerstone of fellowship through golf and the organization that has united the golfing scene here on the shore for over 85 years. When they approached me about donating my time and efforts to bring back the DPGA Amateur and to help promote Junior Golf here on the shore, I gladly accepted," Taranto said. "The Junior Program is where we will find our future generations of golfers, PGA Professionals, and golf course superintendents, so it is our responsibility to put together a strong JR Program so our sport will continue to grow here on the shore for generations to come." Taranto continued with "The DPGA Junior Scholarship Program is something very special and the main reason I wanted to donate my services. Over the years the DPGA has awarded well over $100,000 to deserving students that came up in the DPGA Junior Program and went on to continue their education through college. Many of those scholarship winners are now in the business of golf and play major rolls in the sport.

It is now time for high school, college bound seniors to start thinking about applying for a DPGA scholarship. Each DPGA club is allowed to have one golfing student awarded a scholarship per year. Preferential consideration is given to those that have financial need, are active golfers and/or majoring in or taking courses in a field related to golf, agronomy or agriculture or are from a DPGA club.

The 2015 DPGA scholarships awards and requirements have changed. The scholarship will become a one year scholarship with the chance of reapplying if your GPA is 2.5 or above. The minimum one year scholarship will be for $1000 this year. One of the main requirements for the DPGA scholarship is to have a USGA handicap. If you have played on a high school team, or our junior tournaments or other tournaments, work with your coach or DPGA golf course to get a handicap. Most courses allow junior golfers free access to their handicap system or at most a minimal charge. It is a small price to pay for a chance at a $1000 scholarship.

The deadline for the application is June 1st, no exceptions. More information on the process and the application can be obtained from any DPGA club or at the DPGA website at:

HISTORY AND PHILOSOPHY OF THE DPGA 1929-2015

In 1927, members from Delmarva's golf clubs felt there was a need to form an organization that would share and handle the common interests of all clubs, arrange schedules to avoid conflicts and generally promote the game of golf on Delmarva. Team matches were being played at the various golf/country clubs on an increasing basis and this prompted the need for an organization of some sort. This new organization was to be called "The Peninsula Golf League.

On April 3, 1929, the League was reorganized under the name of "The Peninsula Golf Association" and Dr. Charles F. Smith, from Salisbury, was elected the first president, with Claude Truslow, from Chester River, as vice-president.

The nucleus of clubs stretched north to south from Dover, Delaware, to Cape Charles, Virginia, and east to west from Easton, Maryland, to Rehoboth Beach, Delaware.

The original Association was formed with seven member clubs that included: Cambridge Country Club, Chester River Yacht and Country Club, Green Hill Country Club, Northampton Country Club, Rehoboth Beach Country Club, Salisbury Elks Golf Club and Talbot Country Club.

As new clubs were built and the Association's membership grew, the name was eventually changed to its current form - the "Delmarva Peninsula Golf Association."

The original philosophy of the D.P.G.A. has remained the same except for the additions of new programs such as a Junior Program and the Scholarship Fund. Evolving from seven teams in 1929 to twenty-eight teams in 1994 has caused the Association to become more complex and eventually the Association found it necessary to appoint a northern and southern representative to more efficiently manage the large geographical area.

Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., ("Bobby" Jones), a handsome young lawyer from Atlanta, Georgia was being saluted as a national hero, a gentleman of unwavering courtesy and consideration for other people, an international golf champion. A hero in Scotland and England, he was to remain a champion for many years, an all-time great. His personality plus his great ability had Americans wanting to try the new game of golf.

Golf, considered the "rich man's game" in the 20's and 30's, has now reached out to the masses: both men and women. The multitude of players and the excellent climate of this area have encouraged a massive growth of courses on Delmarva.

Most all clubs today host an annual invitational affair that, in many cases, has become a one-day, rather than a two-day event. The D.P.G.A. also sponsors the Amateur Championship, a Junior Championship, Senior Championship, Pro-Junior Event and a Parent-Child Tournament. Also, most clubs today have a Ladies Day, a Seniors Day, and a Junior Day, which means most courses are taxed to the limit almost every day in the week.

The most prestigious event of the year is the D.P.G.A. Amateur, a two-day affair which has been carried on since the inception of the D.P.G.A. in 1929. This tournament brings together the very best golfers the area has to offer. Originally, the Amateur was a three-day affair. Qualifying took place on Friday, followed by match play on Saturday and Sunday; Sunday's match play was thirty-six holes. The names appearing in this booklet as champions over the years indicate the quality of golf that has been maintained.

Another popular D.P.G.A. event has been the Seniors Tournament. The Seniors is a one-day affair, limited to members over age 50. In more recent times, the Seniors tournament has been divided into age increments of five years with both net and gross prizes in each age group. There are net and gross circulating trophies and an accurate list of winners has been kept since 1970.

The D.P.G.A. is also very proud of the evolving role it has played in junior golf. With the help of Don Falls (Chester River) and Bill Long (Elks), a Junior Program was begun around 1950 and has mushroomed in the 90's. Not only has the amount of juniors participating increased, but the Junior Scholarship Program, which began in 1976, has become a business that requires a subsidiary to the D.P.G.A.

By far, the most money spent by the D.P.G.A. is in the Junior Program. Trophies and valuable scholarships are given annually to young men and women; at the same time, young golfers are being taught to enjoy and respect the game of golf.

The philosophy of the D.P.G.A. as stated in its Constitution says: "In the belief that golf activities can be promoted through organized effort on the Delmarva Peninsula, and that these activities will foster a spirit of fellowship and good will, as well as mutual understanding among the citizens of the communities of the Delmarva Peninsula, there is established this non-profit organization."

Edited by H. Clarke Cugler, Administrative Assistant, D.P.G.A.

Editor's Note: Going over notes regarding the history of the D.P.G.A. from its inception was an exhaustive experience. It would require a book to honor all those great golfers and unselfish persons who contributed in some way. All I can say is "thanks." I relied mostly on materials donated to me by Bill Long, Don Falls and Rufe Bowland. God Bless you all!

ESG's ray taranto caught up with the newest sponsor of the "tour on

Q ESG – We are here with Bob Bennett and Wells Scheller from Charles Schwab & Co, Inc. Bob, why did you step up to sponsor the Tour on the Shore?

A BB – We are passionate about what we do professionally and golf. We wanted to bring the Schwab PGA sponsorship to the local golf community. As long time residents of the Eastern Shore, Wells and I are happy to support meaningful programs in our community.

Q ESG – So you're a long time resident of the area?

A BB – I have lived on the Eastern Shore since 2004. So I am a "come here", but a "come here" with a story. My father was born in Seaford, DE and my grandfather was a minister that built three churches on the shore. I also went to first grade on Kent Island and my extended family has a long history in Salisbury.

Q ESG – How about you, Wells?

A WS – My family's farm is in Delaware, and I spent my high school and college years on the shore. I spent most of that time in and around Chestertown, graduating from Washington College.

Q ESG – So what kind of golf do you guys play?

A BB – I am a high handicap player...no distance off the tee but pretty good with a putter. I played football and lacrosse in school. My family was not tuned into golf when I was younger.

A WS – I have played golf as far back as I can remember. I did not always love it but I am happy my dad made me play. It is a great game and I am happy that I can make it part of the way I connect with clients.

Q ESG – Bob, can you give our readers some insight into your business and the services you offer?

A BB – Absolutely. We'll be working with individuals, families and business owners on the Eastern Shore. At Schwab, we believe that investors deserve better. We consistently challenge the industry on behalf of our clients, striving to help enable better financial outcomes. It is this commitment to clients that attracted me to become an Independent Branch Leader and Financial Consultant at Schwab and what we believe sets us apart in the industry. Through our branch in Easton, Schwab clients enjoy local access to Schwab's suite of investing and personal finance guidance, tools and products.

Q ESG – Are you going to play the tour?

A BB – Yes, on a sponsor's exemption. I am hopeful that the tournament format will help focus my game to get to the next level. It will be the first time I have played in a stroke play tournament. Wish me luck.

A WS – I will play on a sponsor's exemption....and let's just say that I hope to play in a more competitive division than Bob.

Q ESG – Can you give me some examples of how you help clients?

A BB – We are seeing more and more of our clients seeking comprehensive financial advice and help with wealth management.

Based on their goals, we help them choose from a variety of services including financial planning, portfolio management, retirement planning, trading, insurance, annuities and more. In addition to products and services, we also provide our clients access to insights from Schwab's experts. We have experienced specialists in areas like fixed income, global investing, charitable giving, and tax, trust and estate planning. Schwab also has 24/7 client service and access through Schwab.com.

Q ESG – So where are you located?

A BB – Our office is in the Talbot Town Center in Easton, MD. Other Schwab branches nearby are in Wilmington, Virginia Beach and Annapolis.

Q ESG – We are really happy to see Schwab sponsoring golf on the PGA and Senior PGA Tours...any comment?

A BB – The PGA just announced a 20 year extension to the relationship with Schwab. We're happy to have made a long-term commitment in our community to support the Tour on the Shore.

Q ESG – See you on the Tour.

A WS – I can't wait.

A BB – Looking forward to it.

NEW CHARLES SCHWAB BRANCH IN EASTON INVITES INVESTORS TO TAKE CHARGE OF THEIR FUTURE

EASTON, Maryland, January 26, 2015 — Charles Schwab, a provider of full-service brokerage services, recently opened the doors to a new independent branch in Easton, Maryland, that offers investors local access to a range of investing and personal finance guidance, tools and products.

The new Easton location, located at 218 North Washington Street, is part of a larger franchising initiative Schwab announced in early 2011. Schwab's decision to begin opening franchise branches, in addition to its more than 300 existing company-managed branches, is grounded in a commitment to make financial advice and guidance more accessible in local communities across the country. Schwab's company-managed and independent branches deliver the same suite of brokerage products and services, pricing, and overall client service and experience.

The Easton branch is led by Schwab Independent Branch Leader Bob Bennett, a financial services professional with 30 years of experience in the industry. Prior to joining Schwab's independent branch network, Bennett was a director for global asset management at Janus Capital.

"Through my conversations with clients, I've seen first-hand how important it is for people to have local access to actionable investing help and guidance that makes sense for their specific financial goals," said Bennett. "Since its founding, Schwab has been an advocate for the individual investor, and I'm proud to be the face of Schwab on the Eastern Shore."

Bennett attended Frostburg State University in Maryland, where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in education. He also holds a Foundations and Endowments certificate from the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania. He lives in St. Michaels, Maryland, with his family. Outside of the office, Bennett enjoys coaching lacrosse, racing sailboats and playing golf.

Bennett will be joined by Wells Scheller as a financial consultant. In his role, Scheller will help Bennett provide investing guidance to Schwab clients through financial and retirement planning discussions and personalized portfolio consultations. Scheller, a Washington College graduate with a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics, has four years of experience in the financial industry and holds the Chartered Retirement Plans Counselor designation from the College of Financial Planning.

Bennett expects to hold a variety of educational investing workshops in the Easton branch, which are complimentary and open to Schwab clients as well as the general public.

2. Golf keeps you slim: Golf is a great way to stay in shape with a round of golf consuming 1500 calories if you walk. Golf also stimulates your creativity, problem-solving and strategic thinking.
3. Golf Gets a Girl Ahead: In today's competitive business environment women can't afford NOT to play golf. Golf is one of few sports that are widely accepted in the workplace as a way to quickly build relationships and close deals. Plus executives who play golf make 17% more than those who don't!
4. Office Talk: When the water cooler talk turns to bogies and birdies, you'll be seen as an outgoing, exciting, friendly, sociable and approachable person!
5. Golf has cute clothing: Fashion is big business in golf, and you'll enjoy some amazing options.

6. Golfers Make Friends Easily: Golf is a great, low stress way to make new friends and generate new leads for your business.
7. Quality Time: Where else can you have four hours of quality time with your boss, colleagues, prospects, husband or kids, away from the stress of modern living?
8. Golf is a great recreation. The golf course is really a great place to have fun, it's the only place you can eat, drink, swim, run, workout, entertain, host a meeting and party!
9. Golf Gives you a reason to travel: There are so many amazing and beautiful courses around the world, golf gives you the perfect excuse to go visit!
10. Golf is like making love: You don't actually have to be that good at it to enjoy it! ONLY 10% of all golfers score below 100. So relax and have fun!

The Eastern Shore Chapter of the EWGA is kicking up their heels as they celebrate their 19th year with the EWGA. They invite you to become a member and attend their annual Kickoff Event scheduled for Sunday, April 12th at Ruth's Chris restaurant in the Glen Riddle Golf Club. Become a member of the Eastern Shore Chapter and enjoy all the benefits of membership. See chapter history below and the value of membership. See you on April 12th for the 2015 kickoff event.

CHAPTER HISTORY AND CALENDER OF EVENTS:

The Eastern Shore Chapter was formed in 1996 with 35 members, by a woman with vision, Nancy Dofflemeyer, who believed in the values of EWGA and the support membership could afford all women on the Eastern Shore regardless of golf skill level. Membership has been growing every year and with membership open to all women on the Eastern Shore; now, in their 19th year, that membership has grown to over 325 members. With 2015 season ready to begin, members can look forward to a variety of leagues at courses from Salisbury to Ocean City and Delaware. These leagues are designed for golfers of all skill levels, from beginners on a course with instruction and play to a variety of 9 hole and 18 hole leagues for higher levels of play. On a monthly basis, the chapter also holds golf socials which include dinner for members and guests as well as monthly weekend member guest outings. Weekly golf clinics are held at a variety of courses across the area for members at all skill levels. Members also enjoy reduced golf rates for play at most of courses on the Eastern Shore.

BUT DON'T TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT!

Here is what just a few of our guests had to say recently

"I've been arranging golf trips to the Ocean City area for over 10 years now. I've used other packagers in the past, but I found that Ocean City Golf Groups really does deliver on their promises. Great courses, great rooms, and just an all around great package at the best price!"

-Don C. Philadelphia, PA

"You can't go wrong with Ocean City Golf Groups. We've been staying at the Days Inn for our annual golf trip since 2001, and every year it gets better. I used to get prices from 3 or 4 different places, but I learned quickly that I don't have to do that with Ocean City Golf Groups. They always give me the best price right from the start and all the freebies you would expect."

-Brian K. Staten Island, NY

"The cocktail hour was an added bonus and a huge hit! After a great day of teeing off at Eagles Landing, it was nice to sit down at the oceanfront bar and enjoy a few drinks and appetizers. Thank you Ocean City Golf Groups!"

-Richard M. Lancaster, PA

"I look forward to reserving our trip every year. Ocean City Golf Groups makes it so easy. All I have to do is tell them the dates and courses we want, and they do the rest. Most of our group is retired and on a fixed income, and they always give us the best deal!"

UMESUpdate!

BY WILLIAM DILLON

It is that time of year again when we get the chance to leave the winter weather and head south for the annual PGA Merchandise Show just before the beginning of the spring semester. The PGA Show is held at the Orange County Convention Center in Orlando, FL. This is the golf industry's largest trade show with everything from equipment and apparel to travel destinations and everything a facility could use for operations. UMES Freshman, Marquis Usher, said "I have never seen anything like this. It is hard to believe that golf is this big."

"The PGA Show now serves our program with two purposes. It assists in helping our students attain summer internships and gives us a chance to reconnect with our alumni" said Chris Prosser, UMES PGA Golf Management Internship Coordinator. "Now that we have 22 graduates working in the industry, the PGA Show gives them a chance to see and catch-up with the staff, former classmates, and meet the new students" Prosser added. PGA Golf Management Alumni, Andrew Haldeman, added "It is great to be able to pass on our experiences to the current students. We make it a point to visit the UMES booth and scout students that we feel would be a fit for our respective facilities as interns. We went through the process as students and know what they are going through in trying to nail down an internship. Hopefully we can make the process a little easier on them."

COACH'S CHALKBOARD

A SUCCESSFUL JOURNEY THROUGH THE YEARS LEAVES THE STEPHEN DECATUR HIGH SCHOOL COACHING STAFF with fond memories

To say we had the extreme pleasure of coaching and watching two outstanding young men mature and develop their game over the past six years is an understatement. Danny Parker and Brooks Holloway epitomize the ultimate junior golfer with their level of sportsmanship and dedication to the sport. Coach Furbay and I were absolutely blessed to have such outstanding gentlemen grace our program who represent the Decatur Way in all aspects of pride, achievement, respect, and responsibility. As they approach the next chapter in their lives, taking their game to the collegiate level, we wish them the best and couldn't be more proud of their accomplishments; they will truly be missed next year.

"BEST BALL VS SCRAMBLE"

After numerous conversations through the years and because of a recent talk, I have decided to offer a little clarity on golf formats. Talking with my old pal the other day we were discussing our upcoming FIGO (Fenwick Island Golf Outing) that we do twice a year, once in the spring and again in the fall. We were hashing out different golf formats to make this a bit more interesting than the normal closest to the pin events and so forth. He kept telling me he wanted to do a best ball, confusing this format for Scramble or Captain's Choice. Golf is a paradox of opposites and I completely understand why some people struggle with verbiage. In a game where you have to swing easy to hit it hard and you have to hit down to make it go up, confusion can surely set in. When playing Best Ball (BB), the format calls for the best score of a player on said hole to be counted. Two BB's of 4 will count two players scores, so if you make a 3 and your playing partners make a 4, 5 and 6 respectively, your total score will be 7. That is the total of the two best balls. It is a great format and keeps everyone competitive and in the game. A Scramble, also called Captain's Choice, is when everyone drives and the best shot is chosen to play the next shot. Everyone will play from that location, then again you will choose the best shot and everyone plays from that spot again until the ball is holed. This format again is extremely fun, but normally favors the teams with the strongest player. I hope this brings a little clarity and encourages you to go out and try some new games to spice up your golf life!

YOU KNOW THE DRILL

BY STEVE MENZ

"MAKE A NEW PLAN STAN!"

It's that time of year when the weather has just let up and we can start getting back to playing the game we love the most! Yes it is golf season again and here is how to make this year better than last year! Take a look at your game and decide what you would like to accomplish this season. Make 3 lists of three goals and rank them in order of likeliness. One set you think you can attain easily, the next would take some work and finally one set that is lofty. For example I would like to play 5 new courses this year and I feel that that is a goal that is easily attained. One of my second tier goals is to make 7 birdies in a round or to play a bogey free round. I have done it many times before but know it isn't easy to attain. Finally, one of my last goals may not be exactly what you would think. One of my last goals is to introduce this great game to at least 5 people that have never tried it before. I understand the joy (and pain) this game. It has given me memories and friendships that I wouldn't change for a thing. I would love to help others gain some experiences they will cherish for a lifetime. So set up some goals for yourself this upcoming golf season. Making a plan for your golf game is planning on playing better!

There is a problem that occurs with moderate frequency in golfers and tennis players, due to their tendency to rotate on the balls of their feet. It is called a Morton's Neuroma and forms on the bottom of the foot. While benign, it can cause moderate to severe pain, often described as feeling there is a pebble in the shoe to as if you are walking on razor blades. Needless to say, it requires attention, usually by someone who specializes in foot problems.

In years past the solution was surgery, which kept you off your feet for weeks. Now, however, there are other modalities of treatment. One is steroid injection into the lesion (which is detected by sonography), but there are limits to how often this can be performed. Another is radio frequency ablation. Surgery creates the tendency to develop what is called "stump neuroma", a regrowth tendency of the body, which can occur in up to 20% of cases. Now one of the better treatments seems to be what is called cryogenic neuroablation. This involves making a small (3 mm) incision and inserting a cryoneedle that basically freezes the "tumor".

There are several other new techniques, but all should be performed by specialists in the field. If you can't walk, the golf game suffers, and who wants that?

THE MORAL: DEFINE SUCCESS.

For information on Goal Setting and other studies, Contact: golfnews@easternshoregolf.net

IT'S TIME! The Tour on the Shore begins and ushers in a new season of opportunities to grow with the game. With the February freeze making for a long winter, spring is the New Year for Mid-Atlantic golf; and similar to the resolutions for starting 2015, being able to set effective, attainable performance goals will increase the probability for success.

More than 90% of studies investigating behavioral techniques show that goal setting has a commanding and consistent effect on performance across a wide variety of sports and occupations. Proper goal setting influences an athlete's mechanics by directing attention toward task completion, correctly mobilizing effort and prolonging persistence. Effective performance goals optimize the psychological state by increasing confidence and fulfillment while decreasing anxiety. Skill development as a function of goal setting greatly depends on the degree to which the athlete implements the techniques that lead to achievement.

Goals generally fall into two distinct categories: Outcome Goals versus Process Goals. Outcome goals typically focus on competitive results whereas Process Goals tend to be concerned with reaching standards. An Outcome Goal may be to shoot a 70, and a properly applied Process Goal such as keeping the chin down through the backswing on every tee shot increases the chances for progress. Beyond this distinction, performance goals can be classified as short-term or long-term, and research suggests that successful short-term goals are framed by suitable long-term goals.

The goal to lose weight is an admirable long-term ambition; keeping a daily diet and exercise log provides a tangible tally showcasing the rate of progression. For a lower handicap, firmly grasp each rung on the ladder to the objective. The security in each step creates a solid foundation to foster performance enhancement.

Golf, much like everything else, has its share of trends. From adjustable clubs to GPS units, nothing has taken over like the simple new found popularity of spikeless golf shoes. According to Adidas "it's not the sole of a shoe, it's the footprint of a revolution". When Fred Couples (collective sigh from the gallery) was spotted at the 2010 Masters wearing a pair of Ecco Street Premier shoes, spikeless shoes accounted for less than 10% of the market. Today, that number is close to 50% with some industry insiders predicting 75% within a year or two. Recreational golfers enjoy the comfort, versatility and economics of the product. Spikeless golf shoes are available from all major companies including some of the newer golf shoe companies like New Balance and Oakley. YOUR PATH TO PAR

RICHARD ROBINSON, INSTRUCTOR
THE ORIGINAL GOLF SCHOOL

Enjoy the initial rounds this spring by embracing the inherent challenges of the season. Temperature, wind, humidity and ground conditions conspire to diminish the distance you normally hit your shots. Even if you were fortunate to play in moderate climates and retain your swing skills during the winter, the ball will not respond in the cold, heavy air of spring as it does in the dry, hot conditions of summer. Swinging harder to achieve "normal" distance, particularly on iron shots, is a common spring season mistake. The "extra" effort is typically translated into extra tension, loss of balance and inconsistent tempo, all leading to missed shots.

The best players exhibit an ability to repeat the key fundamentals of their swing over and over. One fundamental that is underappreciated and often ignored by recreational players, is swing tempo. The quest for greater distance emphasizes maximum swing speed at all cost. But, the real measure of skill is not top end swing speed, but achieving consistent swing speed. Learn to repeat your tempo, and the other aspects of shot making become easier to perfect.

Time a tournament player from the beginning of the pre-shot routine to the start of the swing and the elapsed times will be very consistent. Even more significant is the ratio of time taken from the start of the swing to impact. It's virtually the same for all top players based on comparative research of swings from the era of Bobby Jones in the 1920's through Tiger Woods in 2002.

As you warm up for the round, focus on feeling your distance for the day. You may normally hit a 7 iron 150 yards but, on a given day find you only manage 135, due to weather conditions. Resist the temptation to swing harder and faster. Adjust your club selection striving to maintain your personal best tempo, consider a 5 or 6 iron for the 150 yard shot. Try to avoid the assessment "It's a hard 7 or an easy 6". When faced with the "in between" distance simply design your own "in between club". Select the longer club, choke down 1/2 inch on the grip and make your best tempo swing. Adjusting your grip position will, in effect, change the 6 iron shaft length to a 7 iron length, while retaining the 6 iron loft, thus creating the "in between" 6 1/2 iron.

One of the most intriguing elements of spring golf is the test of judgment and feel. Play the shot that feels right for you in the conditions of the moment and not the "should" shot dictated by the "numbers". To get a better feel for your game join us at the Original Golf School.
