ENVY

Heads will turn. Eyes will widen. Because nothing inspires envy like the new 2014 Lexus IS 350 F Sport. With its aggressive styling inside and out, track-honed performance it's more than an introduction. It's a provocation. Building upon the quick-shifting, eight-speed automatic transmission with paddle shifters that debuted on the IS F high-performance sedan, the rear-wheel drive IS 350 and IS 350 F SPORT are the first Lexus vehicles to vary shifting with G-forces. By detecting when the IS enters a curve, a lower gear is held throughout for optimal response when accelerating out. And, when pushed to higher rpm, the IS 350 and IS F SPORT models are filled with a throaty engine note that complements the exhilarating performance of the vehicles themselves.

ARE YOU ON THE TOUR?

WELCOME TO THE 2013 6TH ANNUAL TOUR ON THE SHORE.

The Tour is a season long stroke play series that is broken down into four divisions; the 0-5 handicaps with gross scoring and the 6-11, 12-20 and 21-36 handicaps with eighty percent net scoring.

Play in any four tourneys and make it into the top sixteen in your flight to win an all-expense paid 2 day golf trip to the 2013 Tour Championships at Bay Creek Resort.

You will earn points by finishing in the top fifteen at any event.

Points awarded for 1st -15th place: 100, 90, 80, 70, 60, 50, 45, 40, 35, 30, 25, 20, 15, 10, 5.

POWER & CONTROL

JUST WHAT YOU ARE LOOKING FOR.

2013 AVALON

Whether golfing or driving, power and control are equally important. A smooth and powerful 3.5-Liter V6 powers Avalon, producing an impressive 268 hp and 248 lb.-ft. of torque. Incredibly efficient with an EPA estimated 31 mpg highway* and Ultra Low Emission Vehicle (ULEV) certification, Toyota Avalon is an absolute breakthrough in high-end driving and a bold new direction for the road ahead.

AJGA JUNIOR ALLSTAR @ TALBOT

Sam Jung of Chantilly, Va., earned his first AJGA championship after defeating Kyle Suppa of Honolulu, Hawaii, in a four-hole playoff. Ana Paula Ramirez of Pachuca, Mexico, won in the Girls Division after a sudden-death playoff with Madeline Chou of Santa Ana, Calif., at Talbot Country Club. Conducted by the American Junior Golf Association, the Junior All-Star at Talbot was a 54-hole stroke play competition played on the par-72 course at Talbot Country Club. The event featured 72 boys and 24 girls, ages 12-15, from 22 states and three countries. The Boys Division played the course at 6,623 yards while the Girls Division played the course at 5,819 yards. The Junior All-Star at Talbot is one of 12 events in the Gary Gilchrist Golf Academy Junior All-Star Series. Specifically designed for boys and girls ages 12-15, the Gary Gilchrist Golf Academy Junior All-Star Series presents opportunities for younger players to develop their skills and earn entry into AJGA Open tournaments. The Series concludes with the Nike Golf Junior All-Star Invitational over Columbus Day weekend for winners and top finishers in Gary Gilchrist Golf Academy Junior All-Star Series events. Jung completed his final round with a 7-over-par 79 to put him at an even-par 216 tournament total. Suppa shot 2 under during the round to challenge Jung and push the competition into a sudden-death playoff. The players went par, bogey, par the first three holes of the playoff before Jung claimed the victory with a three-foot putt for birdie on the fourth hole. In the Girls Division, Ramirez sat eight strokes back going into the final round from second-round leader Chou, but fired five birdies during the final round to card a 3-under-par 69. Meanwhile, Chou tallied a 5-over-par 77, which put them each a 4-over-par 220 tournament total. Both players made par on the first hole of the playoff. On the second hole, both of their approach shots landed 15 feet from the hole. Chou narrowly missed the putt while Ramirez's ball dropped for birdie. "It means a lot to win because it took a lot of effort to get here," Ramirez said. "It's amazing because the competition plays so well." Chou finished in second with a 4-over-par 220 tournament total. Allyson Geer of Brighton, Mich., claimed third with a 224 tournament total.

OCEAN PINES JR INVITATIONAL

Fifty two young golfers showed up to play in the first Delmarva Peninsula Golf Association tournament to be held at OPG&GG. Any player who participates in the DPGA tournaments accumulates points, going towards an end of the year total. Although the players had to be at least 10 years of age to participate in the actual tournament, a younger division was held to give the little ones the experience. I was one of the lucky ones to score for the five to six year olds, who played three holes with contagious enthusiasm. The people who went out with the older kids were amazed at the ability of these young people.

In the 16-18 boys division Joe Iacona took first, Chase Benton came in second, Alex Bennington took third, Tyler Stansbury took fourth and Matt Ruggiere took fifth. It was the largest field on the course. Delaney Iacona took first in the 16-18 year old girls division.

In the 13-15 boys division, Matt Krisick took first, Ayden Whitehead won second and Joey Cooper won third bringing the second largest field that day. In the same age division, Erryn Smith took first place for the girls.

In the 12-13 year old division, the winners were Ben Cooper in first and Jordan Foster in second for the boys. Helen Wilson won for the girls.

The Cooper name appears again in the 10-11 year old division with Danny Cooper in second and Ryan Stone in first. Joey, Ben and Danny are brothers. Emily Malinowski was in first place for the girls and Zoe Hargrove took second.

The 7-9 year old division boys played four holes and Blaine Taranto took first with a three way tie for second among Caleb Collins, and brothers Dylan and Hunter Simons.

The youngest players, age five and six were represented by Johnny Malinowski in first, Matt Holland in second and his younger sister, Amy Holland, in third.

WOMEN'S PENINSULA GOLF ASSOCIATION

The final round of the ladies golf team matches for the WPGA was delayed twice because of inclement weather. Finally, on July 30th, at Maple Dale Golf Club, the team from Ocean City played the team of Prospect Bay for the Gross title. Ocean City was the winner. Green Hill Country Club played Kings Creek for the Net title. Kings Creek was the winner in this match. Congratulations to all four teams for a great season of competition!

The WPGA started their regular tournament season at Wild Quail on June 18th with a 2 Better Ball of 4 event. 68 golfers took part. Rain intervened and consequently the winning scores were based on 13 holes of play. Wild Quail supplied the low net winning team which consisted of Elise Coar, Lou-Ann Carlson, June Allen, and Judy Larsen. Low Gross winners, from River House were: Jane Kasper, Gail O'Brien, Mary Newcomb, and Hilary Spence. The weather was sunny, and a bit warm for the Harbourtowne 1 Better Ball of 2 format on June 25th. There were 32 participants from more than 8 clubs.

July 11 was the date of another 1 BB of 2 tournament held this time at River House. The showers did not hold back the enthusiasm of the 38 golfers.

There was tie for Low Net as both players scored a 58. Based on the score of the back 9, Loretta Pieroni and Donna Ruark of Great Hope were declared the winners with Barbara Miller and Towar Whitehead also of Great Hope getting second low net.

Prospect Bay was the scene of the two day WPGA Championship Tournament. Despite having 2 fairways under repair, they did a great job of providing a challenging event.

STRENGTH & FLEXIBILITY!

DR. PETE ZEMO

At our Fitness Center I get many questions about golf and back pain. That seems to be one of the most common problems people have associated with the game, so I thought it appropriate to review some things.

The most common cause seems to be poor swing, which stresses the spine and back muscles during the rotational motions of the swing. This is magnified with those golfers who have poor flexibility and/or inadequate back muscle strength. I have talked about these factors before, if you recall my articles on yoga and pilates. These should be practiced by any serious golfers as they are some of the best ways to strengthen the core and improve flexibility. One should also work on exercises that target back muscles. If you have any weight training experience, the classic exercises are rowing, which can be done with weights, machines or rubber tubing, as well as pull downs (known in the gym as lat pulldowns). Also, you should incorporate back flexion/extension exercises which help target the paravertebral muscles (the one running up and down parallel to the spinal column). None of these take much time and should be done two or three times a week, not on consecutive days.

When you go out to play the game, remember to warm up your body by doing simple stretching exercises that focus on your shoulders, back, and legs. If time permits, going to the driving range and hitting some balls before you play will go a long way to getting you loose and minimizing muscle injury. Following these parameters should greatly reduce the chance that you are prevented from playing by back pain. Again, if you are not sure about how to accomplish some of these things, a brief conversation with a trainer at the gym will get you on the right track. It will only take a few minutes of instruction but could save you hours of pain.

LEARN HOW TO RELAX UNDER PRESSURE!

SHORE UP WITH THE GAME COACH

Carson Lovett, MA Sport Psychology

On tour recently, a golfer bemoans the pressure generated by his playing partner hitting three consecutive birdies, and the worry associated with falling out of contention causes a loss of focus; he shanks the final three drives of the tournament and enters the clubhouse depressed, questioning his game plan and chance to succeed. Another golfer approaches and proposes, "just relax out there and you'll play better." Fantastic advice, but easier said than done. The noble suggestion requires paying equal, if not more attention to the mental aspect of the game than swing mechanics and ball striking; to do so, researchers recommend two critical shifts: Develop a greater understanding of the anatomy of relaxation, and practice under pressure.

Psychological stress during the performance of an athletic task can manifest into physical symptoms like muscle tension, elevated heart rate, shallow breathing and increased blood pressure, any one of which may lead to higher stress levels, distracting concentration all the more. World-class athletes learn to feel with their mind's eye instead of merely seeing the competitive setting by habituating imagery into each practice session, providing sensory-specific intelligence the unconscious mind absorbs, integrates and recalls on demand.

Golfers at every level of skill acquisition will confirm, "Practice does not make perfect; practice makes permanent." Entering more tournaments with dreams of acquiring the necessary aptitude through experience will eventually improve the odds of winning ONCE. However, if consistency is a goal, proper mental preparation may alleviate hours, weeks, and years of inner turmoil while transforming the relationship between pressure and competition into a championship formula.

MISGA MARYLAND INTERCLUB SENIORS GOLF ASSOCIATION

On Monday, August 19th, Norbeck Country Club located in Rockville, MD hosted the annual State MISGA ABCD Tournament. Ninety-eight players from 36 different MISGA golf courses across the state including one club from Pennsylvania, participated in this state tournament. Prizes were awarded to the top three gross and net players in each flight. I am proud to tell you that the winners of the overall gross and net trophies were MISGA members from the Eastern Shore. Bob Burd from Rookery North at Shawnee was the overall gross winner with a score of 73 and Paul Johnston from Green Hill Country Club was the overall net winner with a score of 64.

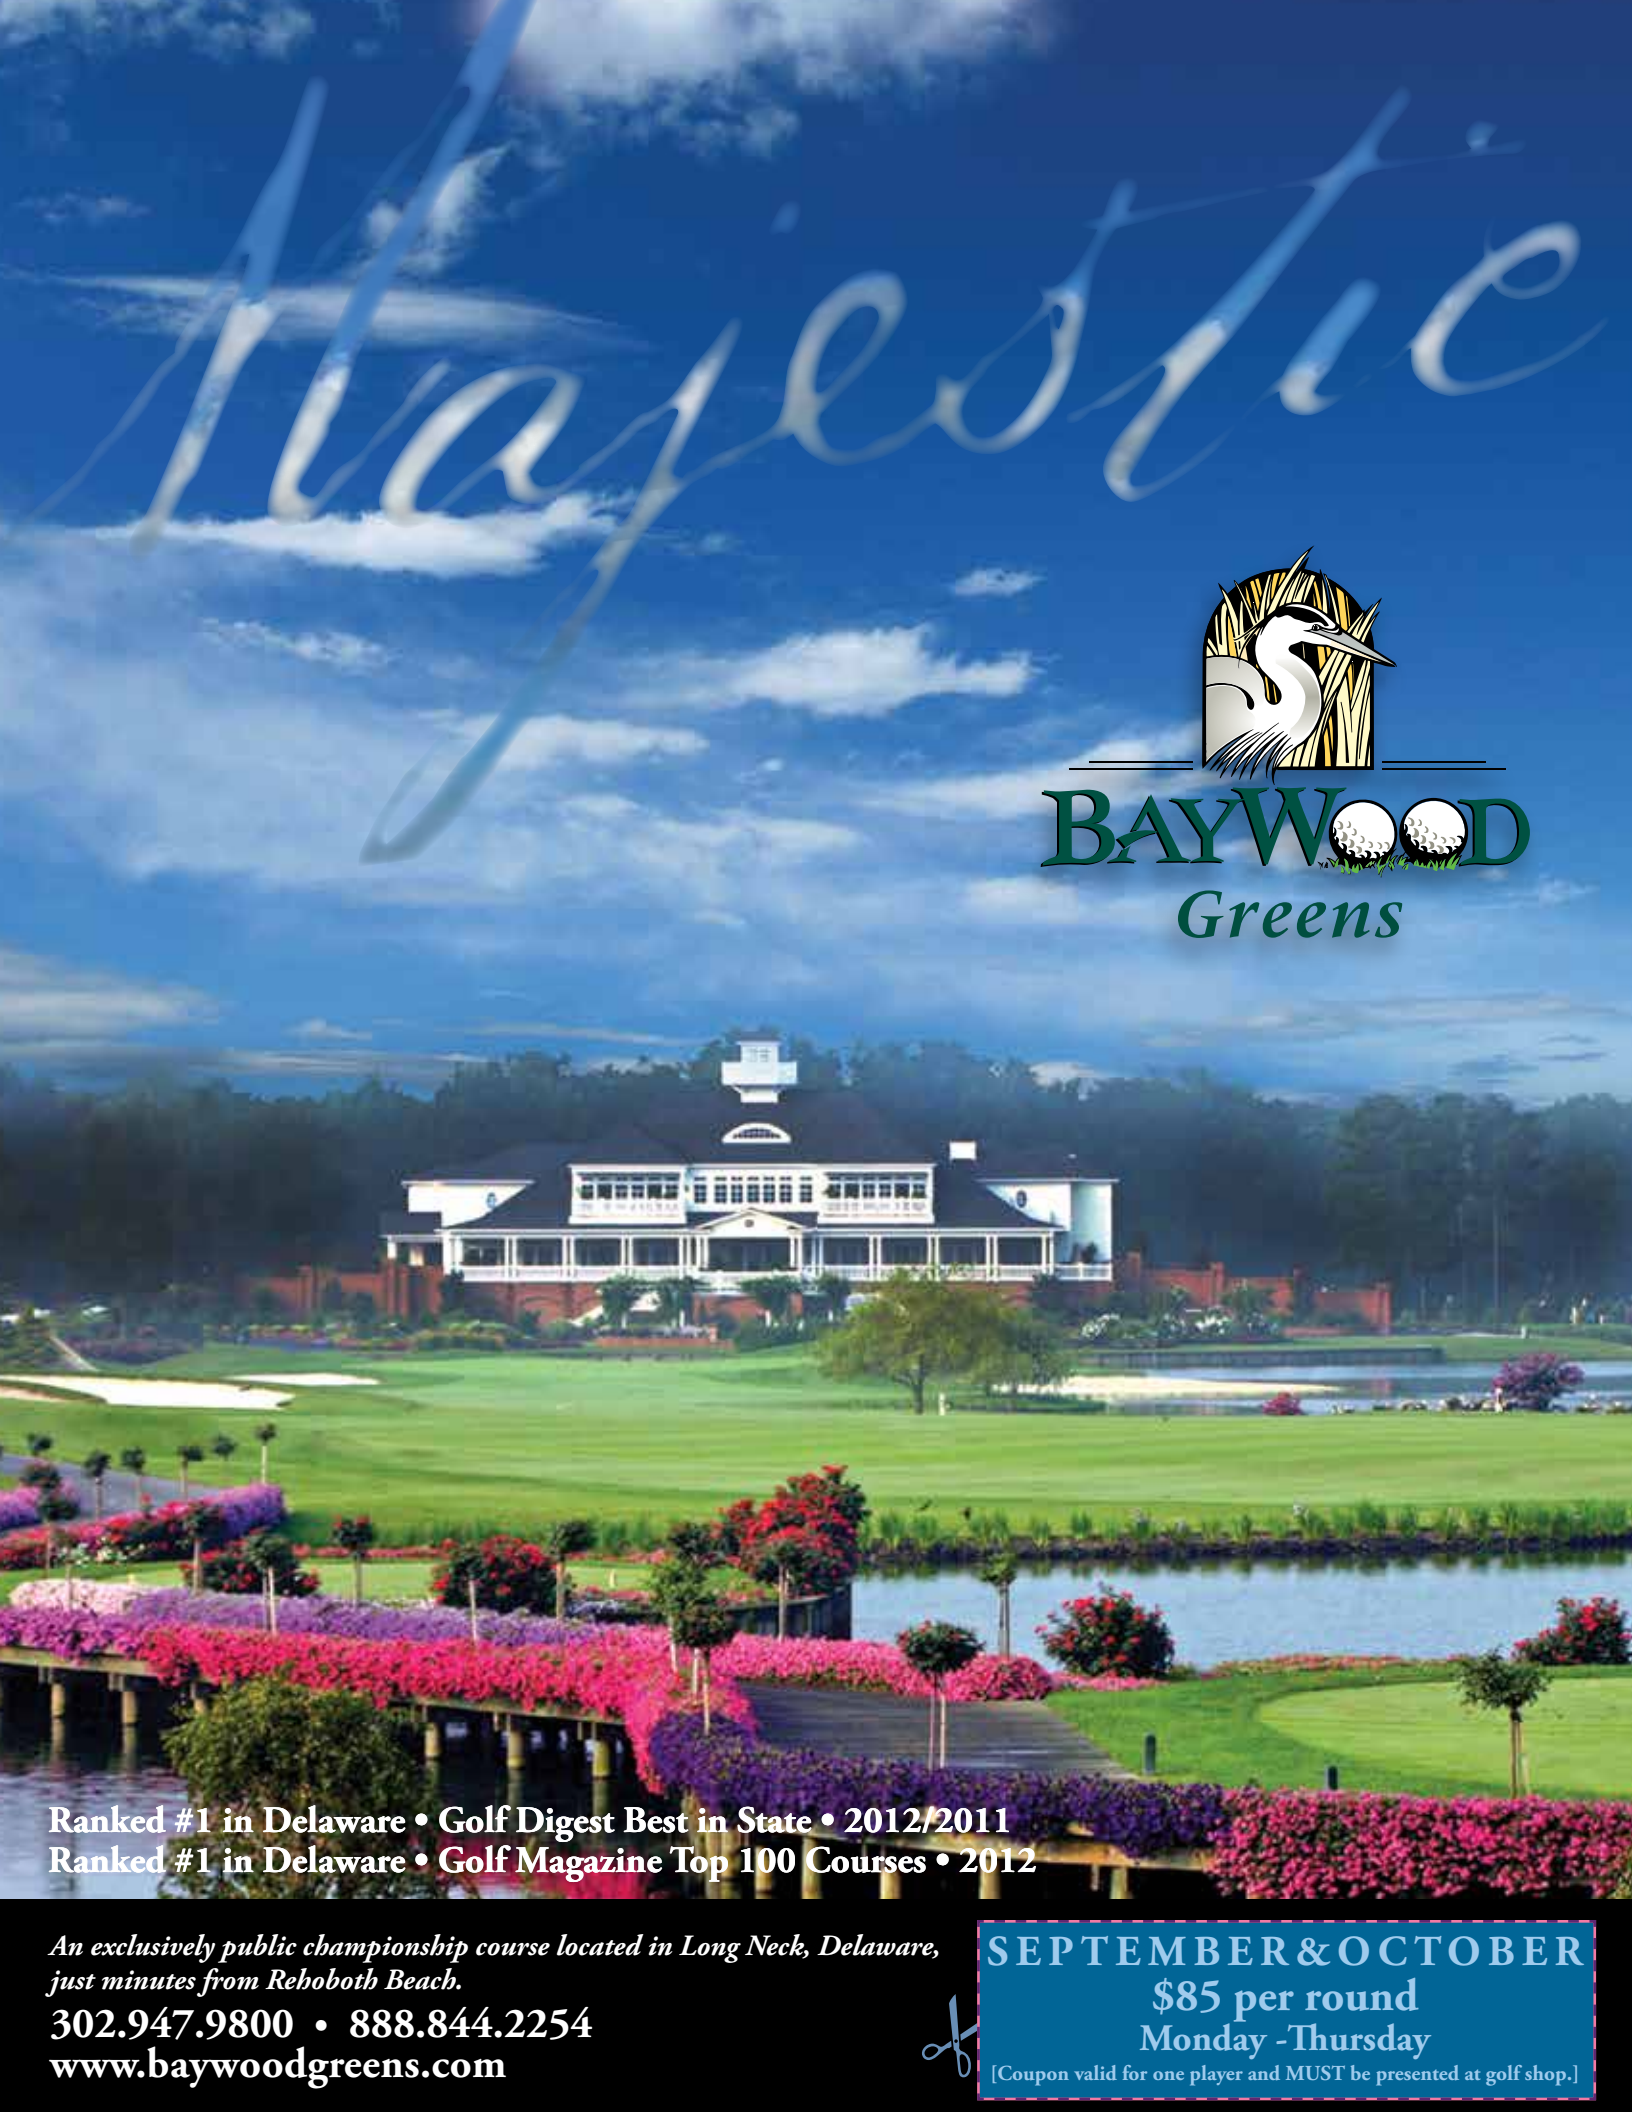

For lunch the players were treated to an outdoor barbecue of hamburgers, hot dogs and chicken with all of the fixings. After the tournament, there was a cocktail hour and then dinner featuring filet and shrimp topped off with a freshly baked chocolate chip cookie with an ice cream sundae before the awards were presented by Norbeck's club pro, Clark Sisson and MISGA state tournament chairman Lloyd Stimson. A good time was had by all.

Norbeck CC has been selected to host the State MISGA Two Man Best Ball Tournament and Wild Quail will host the State ABCD Tournament next year so you might want to think about playing in one or both of these MISGA Tournaments next year.

The Links Living

met on their first day of college at Towson State University in 1972 where they got to know each other living on the same floor in their dormitory for the following two years. They were married in 1978 and raised their two children, PJ and Katie in Annapolis, Maryland. Growing up, both Pat & Genie spent time in Ocean City, Maryland when many of their friends and family invited them to visit their beach homes. After graduating college, Pat spent the summer managing the Ocean Pines Swim & Racquet Club and still says it was the best summer of his life. He always dreamed of returning to Ocean City to make it his permanent home.

While Pat played golf most of his life, Genie didn't take up the game until after they married. Although her father and brother played golf, she was content to accompany her dad to the driving range to hit balls. After marriage, Genie did not want to be a "golf widow", so she took up the game and has been enjoying it since. The family took vacations to Myrtle Beach and Florida and always took a nanny to ensure they could fit in their daily morning round. Their most recent trip was to Palm Springs, California this past May where they celebrated thirty five years of marriage! They played 6 courses in eleven days and had a wonderful time playing the different courses.

The Riordans were initially members at Eisenhower Golf Course in Annapolis, Maryland and later joined Crofton Country Club where they made some great friends. Each year, the couples enjoy time together on an annual golf trip.

In 2002, they purchased a townhome from their neighbor on Jamestown Road in Ocean City. They came down to the beach almost every weekend and played a variety of golf courses here in Maryland and Delaware. After playing The Links at Lighthouse Sound, they fell in love with the course and the community. They decided to purchase a lot and build a home but when a spec house was built on Lot 1, they traded their lot and purchased that spec home, then moved here permanently in November of 2007. Pat and Genie love living in the beautiful community at Lighthouse Sound. They play Friday, Saturday and Sunday mornings. After experiencing at least nine hundred fifty courses together over the past thirty five years, The Links at Lighthouse Sounds still sits as one of their top ten favorite courses. They especially love the views of the Ocean City skyline across Assawoman Bay, the route 90 bridge and the St. Martin's River. They have met some really wonderful people playing golf together over the years.

Pat and Genie love to entertain friends and family while spending time on their upper deck overlooking the #2 tee box. Their prime location allows them to enjoy live golf while dining on the lower deck or having breakfast on the patio. Pat and Genie would like to send a special thank you to their outstanding Superintendent and grounds crew, pro shop staff, bag drop guys, starters, rangers, cart girls, bartenders and wait staff who all make Lighthouse so incredibly enjoyable. There is no place like home for this golfing duo!

ROLLING IT

BY ROB McDONALD, PGA

Have you ever watched golf on television and wondered why it seems that the pros putts lip in instead of lip out? It's all in how you roll the ball. Now you would think that a ball rolling is a ball rolling. But, there is a difference and this is probably one of the best lessons in putting I was ever given. A ball that is rolling true will work its way over the inconsistencies in the turf like it is on a mission to get to the hole. It has a better chance of staying on track.

All putts will start out with a little bit of skid. To roll the ball you want the putt to start out with as little skid as possible. To do this you need to have smooth acceleration through the impact zone. In order to have smooth acceleration, you need a smooth transition, or change of directions. In order to have a smooth transition, you need a smooth take-away. So how you start the stroke is very important.

Two drills will help you to get the feel for rolling the putt. First, if you have a putter with a flat spot on the back, you place a nickel on the putter and try to make a stroke where the coin stays on the putter instead of sliding off during the transition. This will help you to get a feel for a more smooth motion. Second, take some range balls that have stripes on the ball or add a thin stripe with a marker on your own ball. Set the ball on the green with the stripe in alignment to your target. Practice rolling the ball until you see the stripe appear as a thin line while it rolls towards the hole. If you are hitting the ball instead of rolling it, it will appear wider and wobbly. You probably have noticed that most pros have a line marked on their ball. Now you know why. It helps with alignment and the visualization of rolling the ball.

The GCSAA UNSUNG HEROES of GOLF

After reading Steve Menz's well-written tribute to Superintendents in the last issue of ESG Magazine I was inspired to bring the men behind the scene into the spotlight. Superintendents have to wear numerous hats. On any given day they may be a plumber, electrician, mechanic, plant pathologist, carpenter, chemist, and list goes on and on. A golf course is a living, always changing, dynamic entity, that requires constant monitoring and pampering, or it can quickly begin to look as bad as my yard at home. Golf course Superintendents are the masterminds behind the scenes keeping the grass vigorous and beautiful. Operating a mower or weed trimmer is a minor part of their job. Every minute of every day they're prepared to battle a disease trying to spread or pests relentlessly invading, while carefully monitoring moisture levels throughout the course to know when to water and how much. They have a keen eye for subtle changes and are quick to take action. They rarely receive praise for their efforts, except for an occasional compliment from a golfer from time to time. So it's about time we recognize these men who are truly Super at what they do!

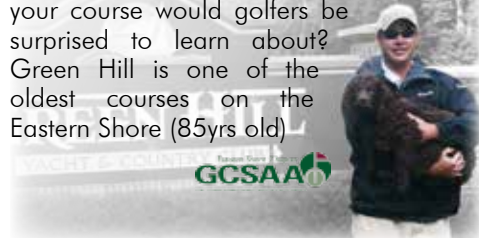

JOHN KOTOSKI | River Run Golf Club | How Many Years: 10 years | How many employee's on your staff in the summer?: 13 | How often do you get a chance to play a round of golf? 1 a month | Family (wife's name) Kate | Kid's names & ages: Shaun | Education/degree/where: AAS turfgrass management UMASS stockbridge school of Agriculture | Awards, Acknowledgements, Accomplishments: certified golf course supt, past president eastern shore supt association, 31 year member GCSAA | What particular aspect of the course that you work do you like the most or least?: like that the front is more open and back 9 is more treeline, least being so close to St. Martin river subject to flooding when we have storms from the east. | What unique aspect or trivia about your course would golfers be surprised to learn about? multiple tees allow all levels of golfers to score well and use short irons on second shots into greens.

TOM AKERS | The Links at Lighthouse Sound | How Many Years: 14 | How many employee's on your staff in the summer?: 11 | How often do you get a chance to play a round of golf?: 4-6/month | Family (wife's name): Jennifer (fiance') | Kid's names & ages: Jamis - 5year old chocolate lab | Education/degree/where: Associate of Science, Golf Course Operations and Grounds Management. Virginia Tech | Awards, Acknowledgements, Accomplishments: GCSAA Class A Superintendent, Eastern Shore Association of Golf Course Superintendents - Member, USGA - member | What particular aspect of the course that you work do you like the most or least?: My favorite part of the job is seeing the sunrise over the Ocean City skyline every morning. Some of the most incredible sunrises I have seen in my lifetime. Mother nature is my worst enemy and my least favorite thing about this particular property. Because the property is completely surrounded by bodies of water, the weather patterns are affected greatly. Thunderstorm have been known to drop an inch of rain on the back nine holes while its sunny on the front 9. Talk about a confusing cart path ruling. Also because this property is so close to water preparing for coastal storms and nor' easters can be challenging. | What unique aspect or trivia about your course would golfers be surprised to learn about? The cart bridge spanning from hole 8 to 9 is 1500 feet long, the longest cart bridge in America.

JAMES P. DAVIS | Green Hill | How Many Years: 14 | How many employee's on your staff in the summer?: 9 | How often do you get a chance to play a round of golf?: once a week | Kid's names & ages: Isaiah (10) and Malachi (5) | Education/degree/where: Associate Turf Degree from Del-Tech with honors Magna Cum Laude | What particular aspect of the course that you work do you like the most or least?: I like my job because I enjoy the game of golf. | What unique aspect or trivia about your course would golfers be surprised to learn about? Green Hill is one of the oldest courses on the Eastern Shore (85yrs old)

JOE PERRY | Eagle's Landing Golf Course | How Many Years: 23 | How many employee's on your staff in the summer?: 13 | How often do you get a chance to play a round of golf?: 2 or 3 times a month | Family (wife's name): Pat | Kid's names & ages: Leigh Anna 25, Clayton 23 | Education/degree/where: Associates Degree from Parkland College Champaign Illinois | Awards, Acknowledgements, Accomplishments: I am a Certified Golf Course Superintendent by the Golf Course Superintendents Association of America (GCSAA) I am also active in my local GCSAA chapter. | What particular aspect of the course that you work do you like the most or least?: The golf course is very scenic set amongst the back bays behind Assateague Island. That can also come back and bite you when the storms come up the coast! Our golfers seem to enjoy the golf course and it is a good value. When they are happy, I am happy! | What unique aspect or trivia about your course would golfers be surprised to learn about? That the golf course is a municipally owned and operated facility. We are owned by the Town of Ocean City, Maryland and are a division of the Ocean City Recreation and Parks Department. I am proud of the fact that the Mayor and City Council and the city administration have overwhelmingly supported Eagle's Landing for over 23 years and we are a success today because of that support.

LEE SIMMS | Great Hope Golf Course | How Many Years: 10 | How many employee's on your staff in the summer?: 9

In Turfgrass Science from Penn State | Awards, Acknowledgements, Accomplishments: Class A status GCSAA, Served as President ESAGCS | What particular aspect of the course that you work do you like the most or least?: I enjoy maintaining a links style course located on one of Maryland's most scenic coastal bays. The area has such a rich history and an abundance of wildlife.

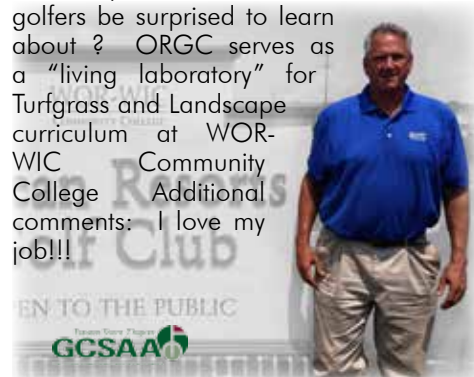

| What unique aspect or trivia about your course would golfers be surprised to learn about? For over ten years there has been a family of bald eagles living in a pine tree overlooking the 14th green.

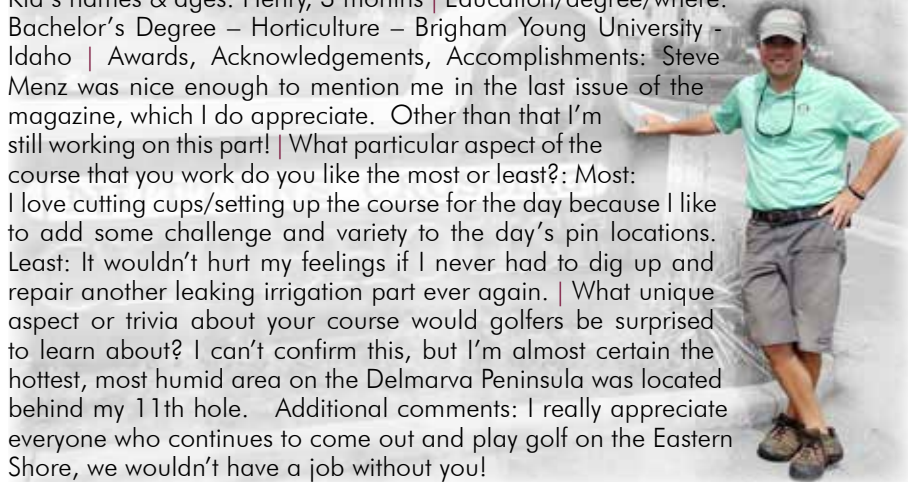

SCOTT REESIDE | Caroline Country Club | How Many Years? 5 years | How many employee's on your staff in the summer? 5 | How often do you get a chance to play a round of golf? 2-3 times a month | Family (wife's name): Amy | Kid's names & ages: Noah (14), Tristan (12), Hayden (6) | Education/degree/where: Turfgrass degree from Penn State University | What particular aspect of the course that you work do you like the most or least?: I especially enjoy prepping the course for member tournaments.

ERIC LINDE | Ocean Resorts Golf Club WWCC | How Many Years: 5 | How many employee's on your staff in the summer?: 6 | How often do you get a chance to play a round of golf?: once a week | Family (wife's name): Melinda | Kid's names & ages: Eric (22), Carol (20) | Education/degree/where: BS in Agronomy, Penn State University | Awards, Acknowledgements, Accomplishments: Certified Golf Course Superintendent, past pres. of PGMA and Shenandoah Valley Turfgrass Asso. | What particular aspect of the course that you work do you like the most or least?: I like; to create a great golfing experience. I dislike; seeing my efforts destroyed by our hot and humid summers. | What unique aspect or trivia about your course would golfers be surprised to learn about? ORGC serves as a "living laboratory" for Turfgrass and Landscape curriculum at WOR-WIC Community College | Additional comments: I love my job!!!

CODY BECKLEY | Nutters Crossing GC | How Many Years: 3 | How many employee's on your staff in the summer?: 7 | How often do you get a chance to play a round of golf?: twice a month | Family (wife's name): Skye | Kid's names & ages: Henry, 3 months | Education/degree/where: Bachelor's Degree – Horticulture – Brigham Young University - Idaho | Awards, Acknowledgements, Accomplishments: Steve Menz was nice enough to mention me in the last issue of the magazine, which I do appreciate. Other than that I'm still working on this part! | What particular aspect of the course that you work do you like the most or least?: Most: I love cutting cups/setting up the course for the day because I like to add some challenge and variety to the day's pin locations. Least: It wouldn't hurt my feelings if I never had to dig up and repair another leaking irrigation part ever again. | What unique aspect or trivia about your course would golfers be surprised to learn about? I can't confirm this, but I'm almost certain the hottest, most humid area on the Delmarva Peninsula was located behind my 11th hole. Additional comments: I really appreciate everyone who continues to come out and play golf on the Eastern Shore, we wouldn't have a job without you!

ERIC SNELSIRE | Glen Riddle Golf Club | How Many Years: 6 at Glen Riddle (previous 5 years at Lighthouse Sound) | How many employee's on your staff in the summer? 20 | How often do you get a chance to play a round of golf?: 1-2 per month | Family (wife's name): Jocelyn | Kid's names & ages: Hayden (12), Ashton (9), Ava (6) | Education/degree/where: 4 YR Bachelors of Science in Turfgrass Science (Penn State) | Awards, Acknowledgements, Accomplishments: visit my website for resume/career highlights www.ericgcs.com | What particular aspect of the course that you work do you like the most or least?: Like: History of the property, especially the clubhouse/Ruth Chris Steakhouse, Dislike: Large property makes the task of maintaining it very difficult. Large diversity between the two courses in growing environments, design, and maintenance requirements/challenges. | What unique aspect or trivia about your course would golfers be surprised to learn about? Glen Riddle Farm was home to Legendary Hall of Fame racehorses Man O' War & War Admiral.

I like the fact that my office is not confined to four walls. I enjoy the continual challenge of maintaining and improving the golf course and the benefits provided by working outdoors...seeing the sunrises, the view of the Bay, wildlife, the changing of the seasons and yes, more times than I like to admit, watching the sunsets. | What unique aspect or trivia about your course would golfers be surprised to learn about? Designed and built by the legendary golf course architect Pete Dye. One of his earliest designs opening in 1971. Additional comments? I could not do the job I do and provide the excellent conditions we have here at Harbortowne, if it were not for the support of the General Manager, Head Professional and definitely, my Crew!

EASTERN SHORE GRASS BUSINESS IT'S BIGGER, AND MORE IMPORTANT THAN YOU THINK!

If you love the game of golf, it is hard not to love all the different surfaces we play on. I believe I fell in love with the game of golf and the grass the ball sat on simultaneously. And the amazing thing about that is, I learned to play golf on the most "challenging" surface on the shore, Deer Harbor Golf Course. As my love for the game grew, so did my curiosity with the type of grass I was playing on. Bent, Bermuda, Rye, Fescue, Blue, Poa, Zoysia, and yes even Crab grass can all be found on the Eastern Shore. What many of us don't realize, there isn't many places in this country where you can find such a diverse portfolio of playing surfaces that thrive all in one area. As golfers this gives us the ability and advantage to go anywhere in the country and play and no matter what type of grass is grown on the fairways, tees, roughs, or greens; we will be prepared. Another interesting fact about the turf grass business on the Eastern Shore is that most all of the sod that is sold in Maryland, Delaware, and Virginia comes from right here on the shore. With all the homes, roads, and schools being built in the Washington, DC/Baltimore area the sod farming business here on the shore stays busy. You can find farms from Salisbury all the way to Centerville on your drive down Route 50 who supply the whole Mid-Atlantic with various types of grasses.

With all the quality grass being grown on the Eastern Shore professionals in the golf, sod, and lawn/landscape industry demand high quality seed. Chesapeake Valley Seed is a small seed company that provides the highest quality seed and service in the business.

I grew up playing golf on the eastern shore and played on the back-to-back JM Bennett High School state championship golf team. After graduating from Virginia Tech I started working for a large national seed company with the hopes of moving back the Eastern Shore to be closer to friends and family. Now working with Chesapeake Valley Seed I not only have the ability to provide the highest quality grass seed but also a chance to get back to the place I love, the Eastern Shore.

PRACTICE
TO PREVENT
POOR PERFORMANCE

7EVEN P's

We have all heard about how important posture and alignment is in the full swing. But have you given thought to how important posture is during your putting stroke? Poor posture can be the main reason you are not making putts. A common fault I see is when players slouch and "lock" their knees. Knees should have a slight flex to allow the weight to stay balanced predominantly in the toes or balls of the feet. If you lock your knees the weight goes to the heels and causes you to "come out" of your putting stroke and not hit the putter on the sweet spot. This causes the putt to be off line and usually makes it difficult to get the speed right. Make sure you "Practice Perfect Putting Posture to Prevent Poor Performance! Now you know the drill!

When I read quotes like...longest ever...lower spin...revolutionary adjustability, well... I want to try it. When I get follow up quotes from someone like Joe Jennings, who happens to be a highly regarded golf industry insider, to the tune of "it's the best looking, best sounding, longest driver EVER from Taylormade", I don't just want to try it, I WANT IT!

BY DERRICK BERZONSKI

Taylormade's new SLDR features a sliding 20 gram weight that can be set in 21 different positions to dial in your shot shape, a 12 position loft-sleeve for optimal trajectory. The SLDR has a modern-classic shape with a charcoal-grey crown, with a low-FORWARD center of gravity to promote high launch, fast ball speed, and low spin.

Similar to the impact the Speed Pocket had in the performance of the Rocketballz fairway clubs, the Taylormade engineers believe SLDR's low and forward CG placement will redefine driver distance.

See for yourself, stop by Ruddo's Golf in West Ocean City, Fenwick Island DE or Lewes DE to try it out!

Well, the 2013 Open Championship has come and gone. Congratulations to Phil Mickelson for an outstanding display of golf on a course (Muirfield) that was not supposed to be so dry. We actually had a simmer this year in Scotland with temperatures reaching into the 80's. Yes, it does happen.

There was a lot of talk about the conditions but I can attest that Muirfield is a course that the pro's love to play for the Claret Jug.

In 2015 the championship returns to The Old Course. Just like Pebble Beach and Augusta, everyone wants to play on the "Hallowed turf". Well, with some careful planning it can be done.

The "Kingdom of Fife" as it's called is home to numerous coastal links courses, with St. Andrews itself having 5 on your doorstep. (Old Course, New Course, Jubilee Course, Eden Course, Strathtyrum Course and the newer Castle Course, all managed by the Links Trust.

But it doesn't stop there. One of my favorites is Kingsbarns, just a magnificent piece of land situated 12 miles down the coastline. Followed by Crail, Ladybank, Lundin Links, The Fairmont has 2 course, the Torrance and the Kittocks. Plus many more and you can still have the hickory experience at Kingarrock.

Just across the Firth of Tay, you have another Open venue in Carnoustie. You may remember the Jean van de Velde collapse in the final round.

One thing you have to remember is that golfers from all over the world want to play at the "Home of Golf" so start your planning now. Don't wait and be disappointed.

On December 24, 2012 tragedy struck when Hammer lost his battle with cancer. He will be forever missed by everyone who had the joy of knowing him. Even though Hammer has passed, his legacy will never be forgotten and will have a positive impact on all who traveled with him throughout his life. He will be missed.....

The Freeman organization is certainly better off because of Bill's association with them. Michelle Freeman, CEO, even called Hammer her "southern gentleman". Hammer was humble, devoted and of the highest character. He worked on improving and making all things better.

The tournament raised close to $7,000 and Michelle Freeman added another $5000 to raise the total to almost $12,000 donated to the golf program at NC State. The event fielded 100 players and was an emotionally fueled day. Listening to Bill's brother Dan speak left no eye dry.

BILL "HAMMER" HAMILTON MEMORIAL GOLF OUTING

BILL "HAMMER" HAMILTON was an outstanding golfer but more importantly he was a wonderful human being. A brief history of Hammer, he attended NC State University. Was a top 5 player from 1974 to 1977, won two collegiate events, had ten top 10 finishes, was the team's most valuable player in 1976 and 1977. Hammer was all ACC two times and he led his NC State team to their first ever appearance in the NCAA Championship. When Bill was a junior golfer he competed with and defeated some of today's greats including Scott Hoch, Curtis Strange and Larry Watkins.

Much more importantly, Hammer was a genuinely good person to all who had the privilege to know him. As Director of Golf for the Freeman Companies, Hammer's highest priority was to make every golfer feel welcome and have an enjoyable experience. He achieved this by always having a smile on his face, giving all his attention and his best advice to players/students, and always, speaking highly of the aspects of his beloved golf. Hammer's love of golf was evident by the passion he shared with all who were fortunate enough to speak with him. Hammer was first and foremost a true and genuine friend. He would look after his friends and coworkers and would give the shirt off his back to anyone who needed a hand up. It didn't matter if you only knew Hammer for a short time he would make you feel like you knew him your whole life, the gift of a true gentleman.

Elinor Lees, at the age of 80, won the Women's Delmarva Golf Association tournament at the River House in Easton, MD on August 15, 2013. She shot a 43, which tied a woman from Nassawango. In sudden death, Elinor won after just one hole. This should give all of us golfers something to aspire to. Meg Herrick, with a score of 44, won the first flight and Betty Holloway won first in her flight. Way to go Ocean Pines!

PGA Golf Management Program readies for a busy semester

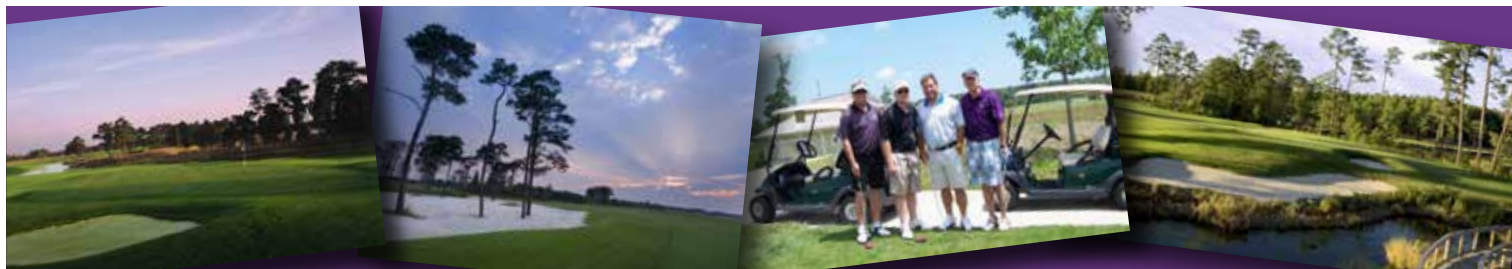

As the sixth cohort enters UMES they will be met with numerous demands on their time, not to mention their regular classes. These freshmen must assimilate to college life and very quickly learn the importance of time management. These students are enrolled in fifteen credit hours of course work and then must meet their program requirements. "A few semesters ago the leaders of the PGA Golf Management Student Association (PGMSA) decided to model their program requirements after the PGA of America, where they must earn continuing education credits, better known as MSR points. It is the job of the PGMSA Secretary to record all earned points", said Chris Prosser, Internship Coordinator.

Students earn Program MSR points (per semester) by:

- Attending at least 3 PGMSA meetings (4) per semester
- Participation in at least four (of 8) PGMSA Tournaments
- Attempt or pass the PGA Playing (1) Ability Test
- Attend Player Development if (2) PAT not passed
- Attend guest speaker presentations
- Attending Middle Atlantic PGA Section (1) meeting
- Participate in outside tournaments (PGA's Jones Cup, Carolinas Cup, Mason-Dixon Line Challenge)
- Complete (1) Community Service projects
- Conduct Play Golf America initiative programs

"Everything is basically worth one point and each student must earn at least 10 points per semester", added Prosser. "It keeps the students involved in something that they love, keeps them engaged with program, and shows the importance of personal growth and community service, which is something that all PGA of America members do on a daily basis". set-up and run this tournament, so players are treated special, it's awesome", said Mike Veverka, UMES student. The competition was held on the Wannamaker Course that played approximately 6900 yards and a par of 72. Veverka tied for 5th overall with a three round total of 73-73-72=218. The tournament also includes a Championship Welcome Dinner where Blanco was awarded the 2013 Joe Stewart/Earnie Ellison Scholarship for $1000.00. UMES student, Jon Seward, passed the required PGA Playing Ability Test while competing at the PGA Minority Championship. Seward said "It was great to come down here and play well enough to pass the PAT, now I can focus on my studies and work on becoming a better player".

Prosser added, "It has been a really good finish to semester that didn't produce a lot of playing time for the students. We started with a strong showing at the PGA Merchandise Show, had a second place finisher at the Carolinas Cup, a top five finisher at the PGA Minority Championship, two scholarship winners, and two students conquered the Playing Ability Test. This shows that we have some really good students and the University and program are better for having them."

COLONEL D. LYLE HOHNSTINE MEMORIAL RECAP

OUR SOLDIERS.

STEVEN DEVRIES, GEORGE ROY, MATT
LEWISSON, NICK THOM & DEWITTE OSBORNE

While heavy rain may have kept golfers off the course for 5th annual Colonel D. Lyle Hohnstine Memorial tournament, not even Mother Nature could slow down the level of American patriotism present at the Bayside Golf Resort. Even though the tournament had been canceled, the majority of golfers from the field remained to show their support for the benefitting wounded veteran charities, Operation Homefront and the Salute Military Golf Assoc. One of the events that would remain in place regardless of the weather was a clinic hosted by SmashFactor Golf. With the assistance of 6 American heroes from SMGA, George Roy explained his club-focused teaching philosophy and how working with disabled veterans has not only helped him develop this methodology, but how it continues to help develop the skills of all golfers. During the clinic wrap-up, Simpson Cup Captain for Team USA Chris Bowers went on to explain how instrumental golf has been for his recovery, and the recovery of countless other vets. The event proved that while it's great being a golfer, it's even better to be an American.

TOOLS OF THE TRADE

BY STEVE MENZ

"This Little Piggy went the distance"

When someone inquires about golf lessons I always ask, "What is it you would like to accomplish during your lesson?" The response is about 50-50 on either more distance or more consistency. I am going to explain how you can have your cake and eat it too! Here is a great drill to train your body how to use the strongest joint in your body to hit the golf ball effortlessly. Address the ball as you do normally. Raise the toes on your trailing foot off of the ground about 3 or 4 inches. Place a tee in the ground under your big toe or the ball joint on your big toe. Pretend like your toe is resting on the tee like a ball. Start your back swing keeping your leg motion extremely quiet until the club gets parallel to the ground then stop your swing in that position. The next motion is to turn your hips back and step the tee into the ground to load that joint of your foot with the majority of your weight as the club gets to the top. Stop at the top and feel the weight loaded on your back foot. Now push off of that joint towards your target letting your arms drop to the inside as your body rotates fully to the target. What you will get is effortless distance and accuracy. The easiest way to attain both distance and accuracy is to predominantly use your legs to initiate the down swing of the golf club. Most people struggle by using the arms to initiate the downswing causing a slice or an outside to inside club path through impact. If you can learn to use your legs properly you will have no trouble getting to your left side during impact and your belt buckle will get to the target easier allowing you to become more accurate.

WHILE WE'RE YOUNG

I recently saw a commercial from the "While we're Young" campaign against slow play, aired during the Women's U.S. Open. It took a twosome 4 hours and 40 minutes to play 18 holes!!!! They surely must be kidding with us? My suggestion would be to FIX their own house before they start preaching to the golf world!! If you think that's bad, how about this scene from a recent PGA Tour event. Due to heavy rains earlier in the week, golfers had to lift, clean and place. Player A hits it in the right trees; Player B hits it in the fairway. After an extensive search, Player A's ball is found. They then move the crowd, discuss the shot with the caddy, compute the yardage 5 times and finally chip it back out in the fairway. Here's the best part; the camera switches to Player B, who hasn't even lifted, cleaned or placed his ball. If we all followed the playing pace of the PGA Tour, we would have 6 hour rounds and that's just not acceptable! So before the PGA of America starts to try and get us to speed up play, why don't they send the message to all the professional tours? It seems like they are saying, "Do what we say, not what our tour professionals do." In my life experience that sort of leadership never works out really well.
