KINGSMILL CHAMPIONSHIP JUNIOR INVITATIONAL

The LPGA Kingsmill Championship and the Middle Atlantic PGA are excited to announce a new tournament called the Kingsmill Championship Junior Invitational set to take place on May 14-15, 2016 at Kingsmill Resort-River Course, Williamsburg, VA. This invitational event, which will feature a boys and girls division, will be a 36-hole stroke play event with the course set up very similarly to the LPGA tournament that begins on Thursday May 19.

"We are always looking for new ways to give back to the game and involve the next generation of golfers in our event," said Matthew Schulze, PGA Tournament Director for the Kingsmill Championship. "We look forward to seeing these juniors on site just a few days before the best women in the world participate in the Kingsmill Championship." The field of 60 players will be invited based off Junior Golf Scoreboard rankings for Maryland and Virginia as well as specific Middle Atlantic PGA Junior Golf tournaments.

"We are thrilled to host some of the best juniors in the area," said Jeremy Hyjek, PGA Director of Golf at Kingsmill Resort. "It will be a great test as the golf course will be in tournament condition."

For players that are not initially invited, the MAPGA Spring Fling tournament set for March 24-25 at Chantilly National Golf & Country Club will serve as an open qualifier to get into the Kingsmill Championship Junior Invitational.

"The MAPGA is continuously searching for ways to create once in a lifetime experiences for junior golfers," said Jon Guhl, Executive Director for the Middle Atlantic PGA. "We would like to thank Kingsmill Resort for opening their doors and helping us provide an 'inside the rope' experience for competitive juniors in the area."

Visit www.mapga.com for the complete outline of invitations and more information.

DPGA SCHOLARSHIPS

It is now time for high school college bound seniors to start thinking about applying for a DPGA scholarship. Each DPGA club is allowed to have one golfing student awarded a scholarship per year. Preferential consideration is given to those that have financial need, are active golfers and/or majoring in or taking courses in a field related to golf, agronomy or agriculture or are from a DPGA club.

The 2016 DPGA scholarships will be a one year scholarship with the chance of reapplying if your GPA is 2.5 or above. The minimum one year scholarship will be for $1000 this year. One of the main requirements for the DPGA scholarship is to have a USGA handicap. If you have played on a high school team, or our junior tournaments or other tournaments, work with your coach or DPGA golf course to get a handicap. Most courses allow junior golfer free access to their handicap system or at most a minimal charge. It is a small price to pay for a chance at a $1000 scholarship.

The deadline for the application is June 1st, no exceptions. More information on the process and the application can be obtained from any DPGA club or at the DPGA website at <http://dpga.x10host.com/dpga/scholarshipprogram.htm>

JUNIOR LEAGUE GOLF

JR. EASTERN SHORE GOLF LEAGUE

The Junior Eastern Shore Golf League (Jr. ESGL) hosted by the Wicomico County Recreation, Parks & Tourism will kick off on April 18, 2016. The league will accommodate kids ranging in age from 9-18 and will use local golf courses for twelve (12) matches that will be played twice a week on Monday and Thursday.

The Mission of the program is to prepare and give an understanding of what it takes to play High School or Junior Tournament golf as well as introduce the younger junior golfers to the game. The program will also build strong relationships among fellow golfers and build friendships that the juniors will have for many years to come. This program will teach the kids a game that they can play for many years to come, well beyond High School.

Juniors that participate in any of the twelve events will receive points that will go towards the standings for the opportunity to play in the Tour Championship in June. The events are to be played over a six week span and they are 9-hole events with the top eight in each age division advancing to the Tour Championship which will be an 18-hole event on a Sunday afternoon on June 5, 2016.

The registration fee is $50.00, which includes two sleeves of golf balls and a golf towel. Each round of golf for any event the player decides to participate in is only $5.00. Registration for the program will begin in early February; and for more information about the program and to register please visit www.wicomicorecandparks.org

THE DUNES

Pink Classic

BREAST CANCER, a serious subject, is slowly being beaten back by a group of serious ladies, the women golfers of Bear Trap Dunes Golf Club. This is the 10th year these intrepid ladies will be battling back against breast cancer and they will do so in a unique style with a fantastic day of fun, food, golf and glitter on June 6, 2016.

The Dunes Pink Classic directly supports the Delaware Breast Cancer Coalition (DBCC) which was founded in 1991 and has worked to raise the awareness of breast health issues in Delaware.

The DBCC is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization (TAX ID: 52-2045298), is affiliated with Screening for Life and supports the National Breast Cancer Coalition's advocacy efforts to end breast cancer. The DBCC fulfills its role by providing assistance to Delaware women and men throughout every step of their "pink ribbon journey", from early detection screening, new breast cancer patient mentoring, to survivor support and networking activities. The Dunes Pink Classic is DBCC's largest single volunteer fund raising event. In the past five years the tournament donated over $200,000. EVERY DOLLAR donated by our sponsors, many of whom are local businesses, goes directly to DBCC's efforts in Sussex County.

What makes the Dunes Pink Classic unique is how these wonderful women take the concept seriously, but not themselves. They have a blast, decorating their carts and themselves with exceptional imaginative décor; male caddies sporting pink provide surprises along with the usual golf tips all followed by an excellent luncheon with raffle packages and silent auction items. It's been rumored that there may even be occasional imbibing of spirits but it can't compare to the "spirit" of this event as evidenced by its continued and growing success. Last year, a highlight was radio host BULLDOG of 98.1 Ocean City broadcasting live from the veranda of the golf club, then joining the caddies in providing extraordinary service to the ladies. The field is flighted so that ladies of all skill levels feel comfortable playing.

Please join us and our host sponsor, The Carl M. Freeman Foundation in the battle against breast cancer in Delaware.

You and your organization / business can be a part of this great event. For more information on how to help support us, go to our website www.DunesPinkClassic.com and see how you may help.

This event brings out some of the area's top golf professionals who join in the fun with friendly "beat the pros" hole contests. A great time was had by all!

Local Golf Professionals LtoR: Bob Beckelman (River Run), Rob McDonald (Green Hill), Steve Menz (A Game Golf Academy), Matt Keller (Cripple Creek), Justin Blades and Mike Rushin (Bear Trap Dunes), Stewart Fisher (The Bay Club) Herb & JJ Schoellkopf of Old Pro Golf

EASTERN SHORE CHAPTER CELEBRATES 20 YEARS!

In 1996, Nancy Dofflemeyer and Judy Schoellkopf could not have possibly imagined how their excitement and dedication would change the lives of so many women here on the shore. Together these two women worked with River Run PGA Golf Professional, Bob Baldassari to form the Eastern Shore Chapter of EWGA. The chapter has grown from 35 members to over 325 members and counting! This organization has become known for its charitable contributions here on the Shore and it would not be possible without the amazing support of its board members, volunteers and all of the eastern shore golf professionals and golf courses.

To add to the excitement, Nancy Dofflemeyer, Chapter President, has been awarded the prestigious Nancy Oliver Award given by the national EWGA organization to a member who has displayed exceptional long term volunteer leadership and service to the organization. Nancy will receive the award at the 25th Anniversary Celebration of the EWGA in Williamsburg, Virginia on April 23rd.

CONGRATULATIONS NANCY!

Planning is underway to make 2016 a special year of celebration for the membership of the Eastern Shore Chapter of the EWGA. The membership ranges from new to experienced golfers. A variety of leagues, social events, and clinics meet the needs and interests of all. An Anniversary Gala will be held in September at the beautiful Lighthouse Sound Golf Course.

THEN 2008 & NOW 2016!

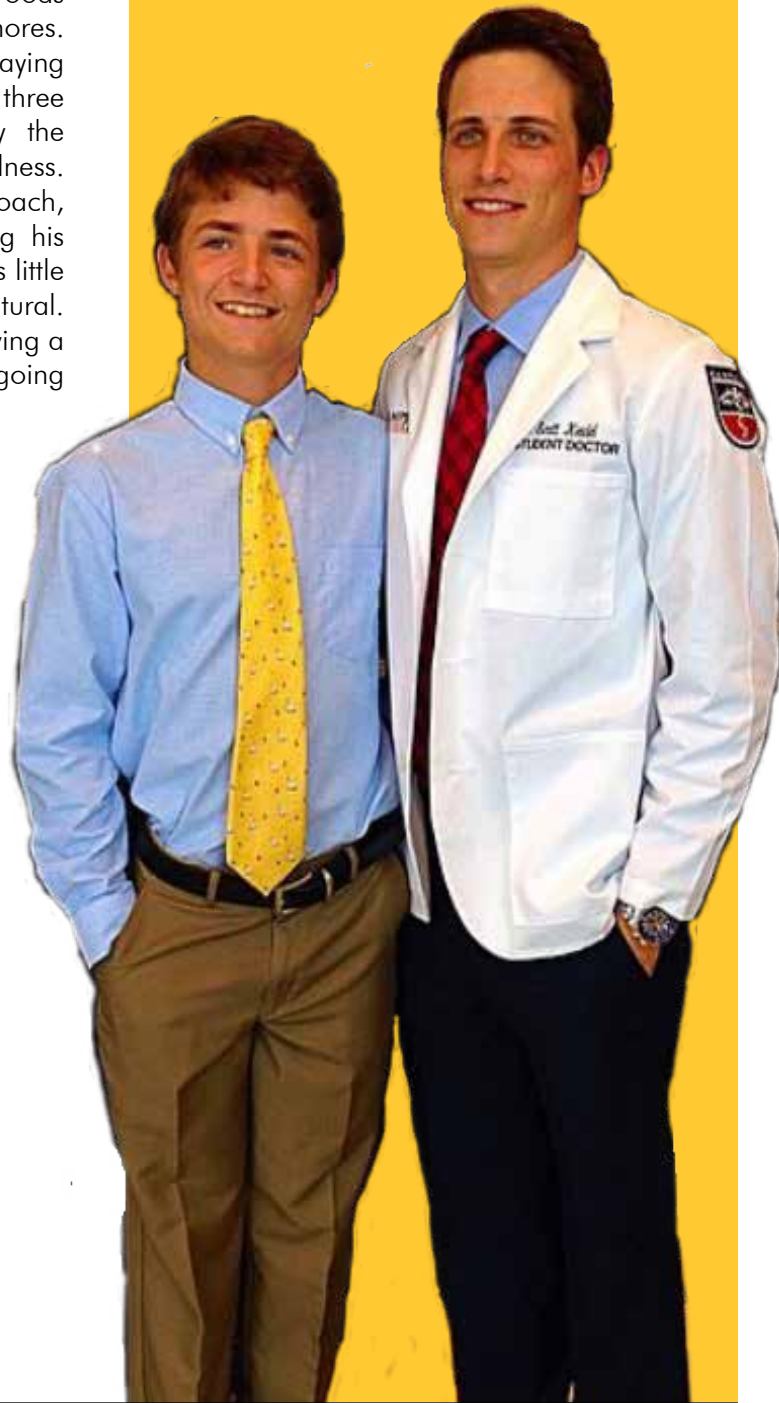

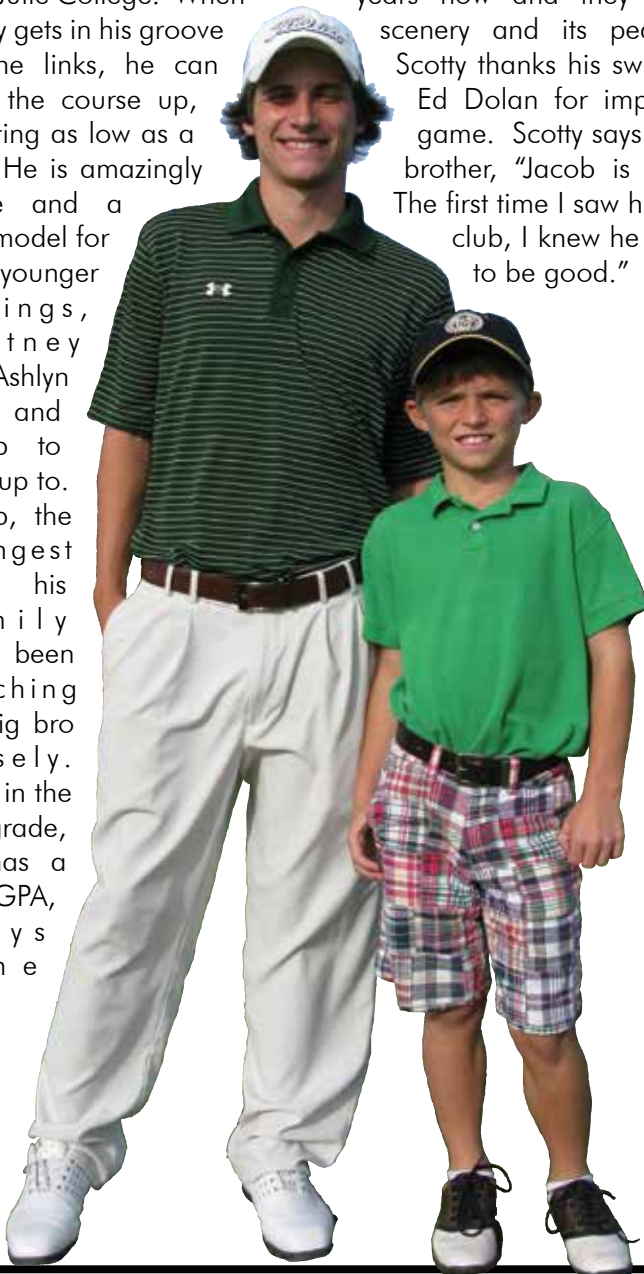

THAT'S MY BROTHER!

Scotty Keidel, 17 and his younger brother Jacob, 9 are two shining examples of youth here on the Eastern Shore. Scotty is a senior at Parkside High with a 4.5 GPA while taking five advanced placement classes. He also found time to help his high school golf team win the regular season division title and is excited about the prospect of attending Stevenson University formerly Villa Julie College. When Scotty gets in his groove on the links, he can burn the course up, shooting as low as a 72. He is amazingly polite and a role model for his younger siblings, Brittney 13, Ashlyn 12 and Jacob to look up to. Jacob, the youngest of his family has been watching his big bro closely. Only in the 4th grade, he has a 3.5 GPA, plays nine holes in the 40s, sinks birdies, and has won the Ocean Pines Junior Invitational twice (2007, 2008). His score was so good this year that he could have won the twelve year old division.

Like many young golfers their favorite players are Tiger Woods and Natalie Gulbis. Like many brothers they fight over the remote control for their X-Box (Tiger Woods '09) and have to do their chores. The brothers have been playing golf together for just about three years now and they enjoy the scenery and its peacefulness.

Scotty thanks his swing coach, Ed Dolan for improving his game. Scotty says of his little brother, "Jacob is a natural. The first time I saw him swing a club, I knew he was going to be good."

JACOB KIEDEL PLAYER PROFILE

PARKSIDE CLASS OF 2017 BIRTHPLACE & HOMETOWN: Salisbury, Maryland

WHO INTRODUCED YOU TO GOLF? AT WHAT AGE? Scotty(older brother) age 6

BEST DESCRIPTION OF YOUR TEAM AND COACH? The team is made up of mostly rising seniors who are very dedicated and coach Downes is a great coach. He is always trying to help us improve in many ways.

WHAT ARE SOME OF YOUR FAVORITE MEMORIES FROM THIS PAST SEASON? : Medaling 4 times including a 77(+5) at district tournament and being the only player in the Bayside to shoot under par(-1)35 at Bay Club.

WHAT ARE SOME OF THE THINGS THAT YOU WOULD LIKE TO ACCOMPLISH NEXT GOLF SEASON? I would like to improve greatly on my putting, as that was one of my biggest setbacks last season.

CAREER GOLFING HIGHLIGHTS: Going back to back to back birdies in the very first high school golf match last season, shooting under par, and qualifying for states both years on the golf team and making the cut both days.

IS COLLEGE GOLF A POSSIBILITY? IF SO WHERE WOULD YOU LIKE TO PLAY? I would like to play college golf down south, hopefully in the Carolinas area as my siblings have moved there and my mom wants to move to North Carolina when I graduate.

WHERE DO YOU SEE YOURSELF IN 10 YEARS? I see myself in Med School working hard to follow my brother's footsteps in becoming a doctor. I look up to him and his work ethic greatly.

I aspire to be just like him.

FAVORITE FOOD: Ribeye Steak FAVORITE TV SHOW:: Golf Channel

FAVORITE MOVIE: Step Brothers HOBBIES? Hunting, fishing, anything outdoors

FAVORITE GOLF COURSE: Local-UMD golf course. TPC-Sawgrass, nothing beats the 17th over the water.

FAVORITE PRO GOLFER: Rory McIlroy, I love how he drives so hard at the ball and his workout ethic.

FAMILY: Scotty(24) attends Cambell Medical school, Brittney(21) lives with Scotty in NC and is on the way to get her real estate license. Ashlyn(19) is currently attending UNCW.

ANYTHING PEOPLE DON'T KNOW ABOUT YOU? I love the outdoors and love to hunt and fish. Being outdoors is so relaxing.

DON'T TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT!

Here is what just a few of our guests had to say recently...

"I used to get quotes from a few different companies and just book with the least expensive option, but Ocean City Golf Groups kept giving the best rates year after year. Now I save myself the hassle of 'shopping around' and just make Ocean City Golf Groups the first and only phone call I make to arrange our annual golf outing. Ocean City Golf Groups really does provide the lowest priced golf packages at the beach!"

-Robert C. Old Bridge, NJ

"I wouldn't reserve a golf package with anyone else! Ocean City Golf Groups always gives us the best rooms and courses at the lowest price. The Howard Johnson on 12th Street is a great place to stay, and the customer service can't be beat! We'll never stay anywhere else in Ocean City."

-Tim B. Farmington, CT

"A few years ago, I was thinking about planning a golf trip for myself and a couple of my buddies from college when a friend of my father's suggested I call Ocean City Golf Groups. Now we make it an annual trip to get together and catch up. The rooms are great, the courses can't be beat, and the prices are unbelievable for what we get. I don't even have to ask for any 'extras' because breakfast vouchers and a cocktail hour are included in the package. They just do a great job!"

-Justin C. Pipersville, PA

"Working with Ocean City Golf Groups was a great experience. They made planning a trip for a large group an easy process. They took into consideration that I had players of varying experience and were able to make suggestions that would keep everyone in the group happy. I am beyond pleased with the level of customer service I received."

The UMES PGA Golf Management Program Graduates Four Students!

The PGA Golf Management Program at the University of Maryland Eastern Shore is proud to have graduated four students on December 18, 2015 bringing the overall total number of graduates to 28. "It is hard to believe that this program has already produced 28 graduates that have entered the golf industry as PGA of America Professionals", said Chris Prosser, UMES PGA Golf Management Internship Coordinator. Prosser added, "As always, we are very proud of the accomplishments of our students and wish them nothing but the best as they transition into the workforce".

UMES PGA Golf Management Students Attend the 2016 PGA Merchandise Show

Twenty-six PGA Golf Management students from UMES made the trip to Orlando, FL to attend the 2016 PGA Merchandise Show. UMES PGA Golf Management student, Andrew Shirdon stated, "This trade show is a wonderful opportunity for the students to attain required internships and network with other PGA and industry professionals. The PGA of America also schedules a luncheon for the students where they get a chance to dine with the PGA of America Past Presidents. This gives the students a chance to discuss their future plans within the industry and also any concerns that they may have with some very influential people that can help get them started in a positive direction. The students learn a lot about the association and get a chance to hit the latest and greatest in golf equipment. As long as the PGA of America keeps scheduling the show, student will go."

Anchoring vs. Non-Anchoring By Rob McDonald

At the Demo Day at the PGA Merchandise Show this past January, Bubba Watson was answering questions from the crowd gathered around one of his sponsor's booths. When asked what he is currently practicing he answered "Putting. That's all I ever practice. Otherwise I just play. I practice putting because that's where the majors are won. I want to try and reach perfection with putting, even though it is not possible." Bubba is not the straightest when it comes to ball flight. He works the ball with big curves. As a result, he relies on a tremendous short game. He recognizes one of the greatest keys to scoring is simply getting it in the hole.

With the ban on anchoring taking effect this year, putting is in the minds of a lot of people in the golf world. New putters, grips and techniques are being marketed to help golfers who once anchored find a way to better putting. While at the PGA Show I was looking into the different ideas that are now out.

Almost every equipment company now has counter balanced putters. These putters have more weight at both ends to help you get the same feeling you had with the long putter. Personally, not my favorite if you are not changing from an anchored position as it promotes a "handsie" type motion. This, in my opinion, leads to inconsistent feedback in which to learn distance control. If it works for you, by all means keep using it.

One technique to help you get used to a pendulum motion, using more of your shoulder and back muscles, is to do what Matt Kuchar does. Take the belly length (or one long enough to do this) putter and keep the handle pressed against the lead forearm. You may anchor the club against the forearm, but you can't anchor your forearms or hands to the body. With this stroke you will begin to feel a more pure-like pendulum motion. Doing this can affect your putter by decreasing the loft. A new putter grip is now on the market called Arm-Lock. This grip is made so the shaft goes into the grip at an angle that lessens the amount of loft lost when locking against the forearm. Biomech also has a putter on the market designed to help you with the feel of an anchored stroke. It is settled against the lead forearm as well, but you set up to the as if it were the long broom handle type putter. You stand almost on top of the ball with the ball played back in your stance. The shaft is angled to go into the back end of the putter. You place handle against your lead fore arm. With a straight back and through motion, this putter really puts a nice roll on the ball.

The long putters are still legal. It's the anchoring that is banned. You may use the long putter by holding it away from your body.

If you wish to learn more about how to adjust from an anchoring to a non-anchoring stroke, please see me here at Green Hill Country Club or contact your local PGA professional. We're all here to help make your game more enjoyable.

NSAIDS.

BY PETE ZEMO 'WOC FITNESS'

In October 2014 I did an article about the health risks of NSAIDS. If you remember it, it pointed out that meds such as Motrin are being shown to have definite cardiovascular risks if taken for too long a time. As we begin to shake off the winter doldrums, most golfers will experience some degree of joint pain while getting into shape for the game. If the pain is due to having joints afflicted with some degree of osteoarthritis, which many of us have, don't go for popping the Motrin over and over. An article written by a professor of medicine at George Washington Univ. in D.C. wrote that a safer alternative is the use of glucosamine. He points out, however, that the form of glucosamine should be glucosamine sulfate rather than glucosamine hydrochloride or N-acetyl glucosamine. The sulfate helps the body to produce cartilage. That is why researchers feel this form is better. The only drawback is that glucosamine takes longer to work, while the NSAIDS worked more rapidly. However, there is not the risk with glucosamine that NSAIDS have. He says the recommended dose is 1500 mg./day, and if it works for you, keep taking it. His website is DrBHealth.org, if you want more details. Hope you all have a pain free season.

YOU KNOW THE DRILL

PIPELINE PUTTING

This drill will hopefully help your visualization on the putting green. Think about how you see the intended line. Many players imagine a thin white line on the green that they hope the ball will follow when they putt. Next time you are out try this; imagine a 4 inch pvc pipe cut in half lengthwise that is pliable or flexible. Basically what you will envision is a line as wide as the hole with a trough going right down the middle of it. We will imagine a putt that breaks right to left for this drill. Imagine the pipeline going out and bending from your right to your left and emptying right into the hole. If your ball rolls on the right edge of the pipe, it will go in from the high side. If it rides the left edge of the pipe then it may sneak in on the low side. But if you can keep that ball in the middle of the 4 inch pipe, you are going to drain it! It is much easier to keep the ball rolling on a four inch line than a thin ribbon. So the next time you are putting try to imagine that pvc pipe, you'll drain more putts if you do. NOW YOU KNOW THE DRILL!

SHORE UP WITH THE GAME COACH

CARSON LOVETT, MA SPORT PSYCHOLOGY

JUNIOR TOUR ON THE SHORE

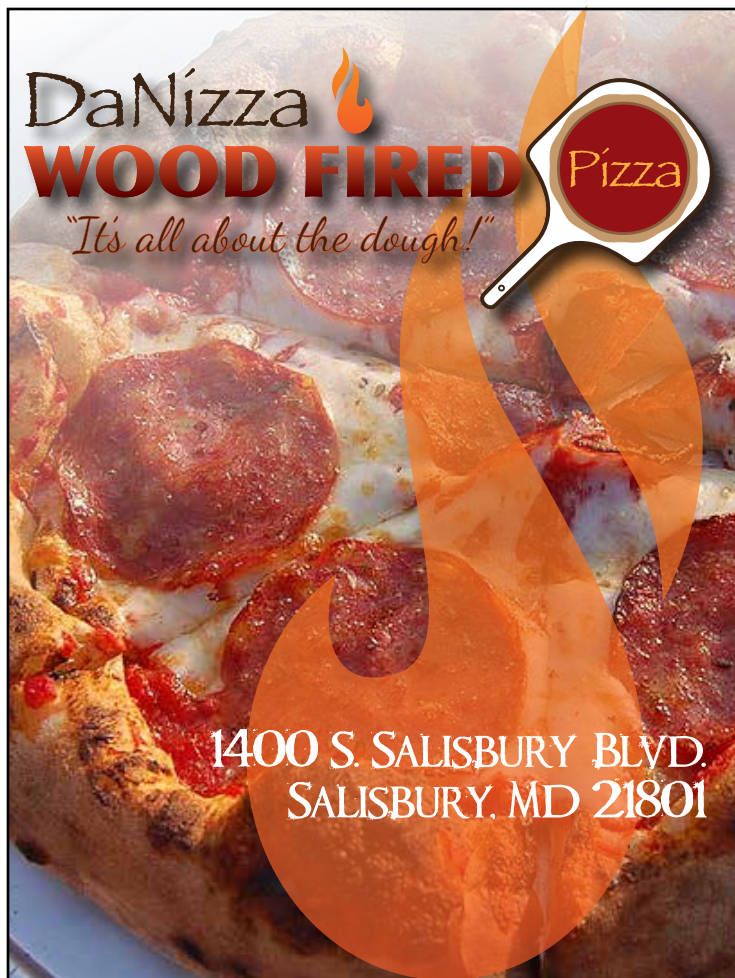

*It's time to play, and we've doubled the fun and the opportunities to grow with the game we love. Bringing the Junior Tour to the Eastern Shore adds a fresh layer of excitement, competition and recreation for all, perfect ingredients to raise awareness and lower handicaps across the board.

Because play is essential in the maturation process and often a missing piece in adult life, getting involved with the Junior Tour can reinforce the benefits of play grown-ups sometime take for granted or ignore all together. Mentoring a Shore Fine Future Star reconnects the adult with the fundamentals of golf, encourages regular exercise and a healthy lifestyle, promotes social skills and accountability, and stimulates the achievement sector of the brain, all incredibly important factors for skill development at any age.

The spirit of excitement radiating from a young person engaged in a sport of choice can propel the athlete toward the peak of his talent, and it can also inspire the adults in his life to rediscover the pure joy that comes from playing a game. When in play state the mind is liberated and optimally framed to fully express and exercise its extreme flexibility. Play opens pathways between regions of the brain that may otherwise be disconnected, enhancing creativity, increasing the potential to maximize talent, a position supported by a series of studies investigating the effects of play on the performance of adults. The results demonstrated that subjects who played regularly had better memory, improved cognition, felt happier and lived longer than adults that rarely entered the play state.

TOOLS OF THE TRADE

LIKE CLOCKWORK

BY STEVE MENZ

When I take on a new student I normally ask what they are trying to achieve through taking golf instruction. The number 1 answer I hear is that they would like to become more consistent. In order to show where the troubles lie I will normally ask them to hit a variety of wedge shots. Hit one 40 yards, 60 yards, 75 yards and so forth. What I find is that players try to control the distance of the shot by changing the speed of the swing. This method is where the inconsistencies embed themselves. Here is a way for you to become more consistent in your golf game. Let's start by making the length of your swing be the strength of your swing. Try not to swing the club, let your body turn to the target which lets the club swing. Right handed players should envision your left arm as being the hour hand on the clock face. During a full swing that arm is normally going to get to 11 o'clock or 12 o'clock. Hit a group of balls with your left arm and hand pointing to 8 o'clock (4 o'clock for left handed players) and write down the distance the ball travelled. Hit another group of balls with your left arm going to 9 o'clock (3 o'clock for lefties) and write it down again. Repeat the process for 10 and 11 o'clock. What you should find is a nice pattern of shots at different distances. This will really pay off on the course when you are presented with that in between scoring shot. It will put you in an auto-pilot situation and take all the guess work out of the swing. This method will actually work with every club in your bag, but I suggest honing the wedges first. Most of the scoring in golf happens from 100 yards and in. But if you can repeat this process with all the clubs in your bag you will never have a "tweener" again. This means that if you have troubles figuring out if you are going to hit a "hard" 8 iron or a "soft" 7 iron, you've already lost the battle. Your focus is on how to swing the club rather than the target at hand. But the knowledge that your 7 iron at a 10 o'clock swing goes 145 yards allows you to rehearse the length of the swing and shifts your focus solely to the target. That is when real accuracy and consistency happens!

March is the month for the "madness" of college basketball and the winter thaw for the eastern shore golf season. So it seems appropriate to share a basketball experience that is relevant to golf. Watching John Wooden direct a practice of the UCLA basketball team I saw the meaning of precise, purposeful, action come to life. Everything was choreographed, efficient, disciplined. Yet, Wooden repeatedly exhorted his players to "Be quick, but don't hurry." A seeming contradiction, but truly a key to all athletic performance, especially golf.

TIME MATTERS. The average tournament player is remarkably consistent in the time taken to set up and execute a shot, most averaging 25 to 30 seconds from the start of the pre-shot routine to completion of the swing. Such players thus spend approximately 36 minutes of swing time in an even par round. You should strive to do the same. Commit to an established routine and do not let a wandering eye or mind divert your focus, just make the shot. The real athletic talent in golf is the ability to feel right about the shot and execute without hesitation. A basketball player moves down the court, senses a shot opportunity, shoots, and swish! The quarterback drops back feels the pressure of time and defenders, sees the receiver, pass! It is harder in golf because you are not reacting. You control the "go" response and therefore give the mind a chance to short circuit your body. It is a neurological fact that conscious thoughts impede the performance of learned physical skills.

YOUR PATH TO PAR

BE QUICK. How many variables you choose to consider before making a shot is a matter of personal preference. Experienced players can perceive the right shot without elaboration. Yet, some get comfort in knowing all factors are considered making the shot. Why are professional caddies so important? They do the thinking, so the player just swings. For the recreational player, being quick means estimating your situation and deciding how you will play the next shot, while in route to the ball. Sure, assessing the lie or a sudden change in wind may require a last second adjustment in club selection, but you should know what you want to do when you arrive at the ball. Follow your routine. Play the shot, then immediately focus on the next one. The player who begins the shot planning process after arriving at the ball has enhanced the likelihood that conscious thoughts will intrude and disrupt the coordination of his swing. Waiting to make decisions invites destructive doubt.

DON'T HURRY! You saved time staying in the game mentally between shots. This investment affords the luxury to perform your pre-shot routine and swing at the pace you prefer. You know what you want to do, have no doubt. The athletic aspect of shot making is being patient until it feels right to swing and then swinging. Don't hurry and don't hold back! Stay balanced physically and mentally. Just complete the backswing, start down slow, and then let it go!
