SUPPLIED BY BOB PHILLIPS

Happy holidays from all of us at Eastern Shore Golf Magazine! To be honest, we can't think of a time when we longed for the joy of the holidays more than this very year. It's a time for family, friends, reflection and HOPE. It's a time to be GRATEFUL for all we have and to share with those who need it most. These have been trying times for so many. The game of golf has provided a steady outlet for all of us, a place to escape and reflect on what has been and what's to come. We appreciate all of our PGA Professionals and their staff for working through the challenges, continuing to provide a sense of normalcy for people of all ages. We thank the volunteers and board members of our golf organizations for their efforts to adapt and keep things going. In times of uncertainty we have learned to reset, keep on moving and adapt to the ever changing situations we have all endured together. It has been inspiring to watch the members of our communities and businesses (small and large) approach these challenges with creativity, positivity and the will to survive through it. We extend our deepest appreciation to all of our readers, advertisers, staff and friends who make this publication possible. We are wishing you a peaceful holiday season and continued success in 2021!

GOLF PSYCHOLOGY

SHORE UP! WITH THE GAME COACH

CARSON LOVETT, MA SPORT PSYCHOLOGY

As you tee it up for the final swings of a tumultuous 2020, consider these five tips researchers agree will help you leave the baggage behind.

Whether you have practiced and played more or less than normal during this challenging year, when you approach the ball to start the next round, accept that you are the golfer that you are. Whatever technical stage of development your swing is in, that is who you are for the upcoming shot. Physically, there is nothing you can do to suddenly become Bryson DeChambeau. The best option to manage the potential for success and failure is to be the best version of you.

The goal for each round should be to focus on the process required to execute each shot, not the score. The pressure to “play well” or “go low” shifts the emphasis to consequences instead of methodology, and the resulting performance anxiety limits the ability to attend to important cues. Fully concentrate on the process; the score will be there in the end.

Stay present! More than 90% of the time spent golfing is between shots; how a golfer manages these critical periods of time will greatly affect the amount of mental energy available to complete the task. Having a plan to stay and play in the moment will suppress anxiety about past and future shots.

Neutralize emotions! Overreacting to every up and down that occurs during a round of golf makes it difficult to have the calm necessary to clearly think through the process. If you hit a hole-in-one or the worst drive ever, once the ball stops rolling, that shot is over. Assess the feedback and move on.

Monitor your self-talk! Are you encouraging? Self-compassionate? Do you make excuses? Are you being too critical? How you talk to yourself as you perform may help or hamper performance. Speak wisely.

THE MORAL: THIS TOO, SHALL PASS!

THE 13TH ANNUAL TOUR ON THE SHORE CHAMPIONSHIP

B FLIGHT WINNERS

WE WERE THERE! 2020@MYRTLE BEACH, SC

After a Covid shortened season was completed, 32 players (Elite 8 from each Division) won a free trip to compete in the Tour on the Shore Championship. The players were treated to a three night stay in beautiful Myrtle Beach and three rounds of championship golf on Beachwood, Eagles Nest and Arnold Palmers Rivers Edge Golf Club courses. Phillip Fenstermaker shot a bogey free round 68 on day two to take a four shot lead over the Maryland Senior Open Champ Vance Welch. When the dust settled on day three Phil had completed his 9th straight Tour on the Shore Top Gun Championship! Vance finished 2nd and Josh Covey finished 3rd. The B Flight saw Greg Manders sneak into the finals as a first alternate and Greg took advantage of the opportunity by winning the Division. The ever so steady Jim Webster took 2nd and Newcomer Reece Hales finished 3rd. Jeremy Wyatt won the C flight by three shots over Brandon Mariner (2nd) and Linwood Harmon (3rd). First year player Vince Brooks won the D Flight as Josh Drury took 2nd and our good friend Bob Mulherin finished 3rd. We want to thank our amazing sponsors for believing in what we do and giving these players the opportunity to build friendships while competing in the greatest game on Earth!

HIGH PERFORMANCE MACHINE

By Rob McDonald

My Last article "In the Moment" was essentially defining what is meant by being in the moment during your golf swing. This month I am taking a slightly different approach on the same subject.

Every time I hear it, I cringe. "I want to get my swing to where I just have my muscle memory make it work for me." You're in the wrong sport if you're waiting for that to happen. I can stand in my set-up formation all day waiting for my muscles to make my swing for me. It's not going to happen. In other sports, you are reacting to either a ball or another player coming at you. In golf, the ball is stationary. You are starting from a static position. Your brain must send signals to your muscles in order to get them to function. You must take responsibility for your motions. Relying on muscle memory is like waiting for someone else to hit your shot.

I recently read an article on how many people enjoy driving the older cars of the 1960's and 1970's. Today's cars have superior handling and sensors that alert you if you are approaching another car or traction control that takes over the drive train if it detects a slippage in the tire's adhesion to the road. In the older cars, you could easily oversteer or understeer and go into a spin or slide. Racing drivers can utilize that to their advantage. They are in tune with the entire operation of their vehicle and its connection to the track. They can feel if the engine isn't firing properly or if the response is just a hair off or if everything is just right and they can go for it. They are an integral part of the high-performance machine.

How does that fit in with golf? If you want to have the consistent high-performance results like the pros you see on television, you can't rely on "muscle memory". Your body is your high-performance machine and you must be aware of every moving part. The pros don't make a swing in which they don't already know what they want to feel throughout the entire motion. During the creation of the swing, they are aware of their grip pressure, balance, tempo and rhythm. They are aware of what body part is creating motion and what parts are going along for a ride. This doesn't mean you have to concentrate on every moving part of your swing, but you must be aware of the entire swing while concentrating on something like the rhythm and tempo or balance during your motion.

If you want to gain a better feel for the motion, try swinging slowly, with your eyes closed. You will be able to better feel your balance as well as rhythm and tempo. With your eyes closed, feel the inner, upper body twist away while your feet and knees are quiet and stuck to the ground. Feel the smooth transition into the hip turn while staying in balance. With your eyes closed, you are less likely to swat at the ball versus simply using your body to swing your arms. Now, when you open your eyes and set up to the ball, focus on repeating the feeling you just had in the swing with your eyes closed. Let the ball just be in the way of repeating that feeling.

NUTTERS CROSSING TUESDAY | THURSDAY GROUP by, Al Higgins

WHOLE ROAST BARBECUE STAFF

SAVANNA AND NORM.

The Tuesday – Thursday group at Nutters Crossing, in Salisbury, Maryland, started so long ago that no one quite remembers when it got off the ground. The general consensus is it began in the late 1980's or early 1990's. The group is comprised primarily of about twenty guys in their 60's or 70's with a sprinkling of 80's thrown in. Presently Larry Albright is the group's leader. He took over from Russ Watson, who retired his thankless duties several years ago.

The format for play changes from day to day with even a scramble thrown in every once in a great while. Each week players pay $7 into a kitty and a percentage of the funds are set aside to help offset expenses associated with "away trips." The group travels to Virginia and Delaware several times a year.

On October 27th a year-end celebration was held at Nutters Crossing. The event was catered by Whole Roast Barbecue Services and excellent beef brisket and chicken was enjoyed by all. Following the feast awards were given to winners in several golf categories.

TUESDAY – THURSDAY GROUP

LPGA

EASTERN SHORE

Meet Tricia Murphy

DIRECTOR OF GOLF AND EVENTS

From Columbia, Maryland - Tricia made her permanent home in Delaware in 2014 after retiring from the Howard County Public School System in Maryland. She began playing golf immediately after moving to Delaware and quickly learned to love the game. She became a Chapter Board member in 2015 overseeing our ten Chapter leagues while serving as Director of Golf. She assumed the position of Director of Golf and Events in 2018 and added all socials and other events to her list of responsibilities. Her expertise in strategic planning, technology, volunteer recruitment and training, has made a major impact on the future direction of our Chapter. She steps down from her current role on the Board this year, but will continue to serve as our Communication Chair monitoring the website and the online 123 registration program. Her willingness to undertake this vital function demonstrates her commitment to the success of our Chapter. It was an incredibly lucky day for LPGA Amateurs Eastern Shore MD/DE when Tricia hit her first golf ball.

Thank You Volunteers!

Fifty- six wonderful ladies were invited to our annual Volunteer Recognition Event. Among those present were our League Captains, Education Chairs, Nominating Committee Members, Social Event Chairs, Member Guest Chairs, Pink Ribbon Committee, and current Board Members. Those attending enjoyed nine holes of golf at beautiful Lighthouse Sound. This year in lieu of a dinner all volunteers received a Ruark Gift Card. We are an all-volunteer organization.

Sharon Repass

A big shout out (YEAH YEAH) and Kudos to all our League Captains for their efforts in administering the Pink Ball event again this year. We collected a little over $10,000 as an LPGA Amateurs Chapter for the American Cancer Society. We raised $3,000 more than last season. As there will not be a Pink Ribbon Tournament this year, we are grateful for the outpouring of donations to this worthy cause during our Pink Ball events this August.

Our members' generosity was on display this season and we know everyone had a fun time, thanks to the League Captains who led this effort

And finally, a special note of appreciation goes out to Sharon Repass, our Pink Ball Chair, who administered the event, and collected and tabulated our donations. Thank you, Sharon, for your attention to detail, and the time and effort you devoted to this task. You are the best!!!!

WOMEN'S PENINSULA GOLF ASSOCIATION

The Women's Peninsula Golf Association was founded on March 9, 1954 with the objective to promote and regulate golf activities for those members who have an 18 hole USGA handicap at a participating club on the DelMarVa Peninsula. Needless to say, our 2020 season was not what we had planned. However, keeping the safety of our members as our top priority, we played golf! Through August, we played two foursome team events and two individual stroke play events using the guidelines provided by the USGA for safe play during this COVID pandemic. Two more foursome events are planned for September. Results from our events are as follows:

TOOLS OF THE TRADE

B Y S T E V E M E N Z

“THE HEAD COVER”

The head cover is not an item you give much thought about, but here are a couple ways it can help your golf game. If you are having trouble coming over the top during the downswing and hitting the big slice simply put a head cover under your dominant arm pit and swing. This will help your arms stay connected to your trunk and also help the downswing stay more on plane through impact. It will feel uncomfortable and very constricting but that’s exactly what you’re going to need to fix the issue. Another great way to use a head cover to improve your driver is to place the head cover about a grips length in front of your teed up ball. Try to make sure your hitting the driver slightly on the upswing and don’t hit the cover. This will help you achieve a great launch angle and normally maximize your distance and accuracy. So the next time you toss that thing in the back of the cart, think about it as a tool that can help you play the golf of your dreams.

YOU KNOW THE DRILL

MAKE SHORT PUTTS "AUTOMATIC"

Here is a trick to make you unflappable on those short putts. Next time your watching a tournament on tv and you see a pro walk up to a three footer and bury it, watch what the do. They will place their lead foot very close to the ball and set the trail foot back. Why do they do this? It's simple, basically there are only three misses on a short putt. You can miss left, miss right or leave it short. Very rarely will it be hit too hard. Here's what this tip does. If you are a right handed player and you step your left foot five or six inches from the ball and make a stroke it becomes extremely hard (but not impossible) to pull the putt and miss left. Now your only left with two misses, right and short. Short misses are usually the result of nerves or lack of confidence. Once you get use to this you will hit the stroke with more confidence so it takes out the short miss. Now you only have one possible miss remaining and that's to the right. You've just increased your chances by more than 66%. Once you understand you only have one way to miss your make percentage will be in the 90th percentile. So next time you're watching golf on tv, pay attention and you'll see it.

YOUR PATH TO PAR

GROUND FORCE PRODUCTION IS NOT A NEW DISCOVERY. IT HAS BEEN STUDIED FOR DECADES IN MANY SPORTS, BUT RECENTLY HAS EMERGED AS A NEW “SECRET” IN GOLF. “OLD SCHOOL” GOLF RECOGNIZED EFFECTIVE, REPEATABLE AND POWERFUL GOLF SWINGS REQUIRE A FIRM FOUNDATION.

The notion that you “swing with your feet” was especially correct for the time, when wind and weather, tweed Norfolk jackets and thick woolen sweaters restricted the capacity for upper body coiling, without good footwork. To provide balance on the undulating and frequently wet links land, players added spikes to shoes. The quest was on to find the best combination of technique and shoes to acquire, balance, stability, flexibility and traction to create the foundation for power. Enter the specialized golf shoe.

FOR MOST OF THE 20TH CENTURY GOLF SHOE DESIGN WAS SIMILAR TO DRESS SHOES, LEATHER, WITH HEELS, AND SCREW IN METAL SPIKES.

The best were comfortable, but very heavy compared to the modern “athletic spike-less shoe”. Good shoes are as important as good grips to achieve your best chance to play well. It is helpful to know how the shoe design effects your personal swing requirements.

THERE IS A CONTINUUM OF SHOE DESIGN.

Some emphasize stability and motion control. Others focus on minimizing impediments to proper foot movement. The stability shoe typically has removable spikes or an aggressive sole pattern, stiffer upper material, tighter and sometimes adjustable heel cups. The fluidity shoe is softer, spike-less, with a flat or contoured sole. The stability shoe gives you the sensation and ability to anchor to the ground. The fluidity designs enhance your ability to feel the weight transfer, as if swinging barefoot.

MATCHING THE SHOE STYLE TO YOUR SWING STYLE IS IMPORTANT.

If you have a smooth swing, good flexibility and maintain balance without effort, the fluid designs will enhance your natural feel for each swing, likely increasing swing speed. Proprioceptive feedback through your feet is the modern scientific phrase for the capacity to feel how to “swing with your feet”. The light molded, flexible shoes enhance this kind of feedback. Consider that the golf swings of Sam Snead and Fred Couples exemplified effortless, elegant, motion. Snead advocated practicing barefoot. Couples was the first to popularize the flat soled, flexible, no spike shoe.

IF YOU ARE TIGHT, FIND IT DIFFICULT TO MAKE AN UNRESTRICTED TURN, OR STRUGGLE WITH MAINTAINING BALANCE, THE STABILITY SHOE MAY BE THE RIGHT CHOICE. BEING FIRMLY ANCHORED TO THE GROUND IS AN IMPORTANT CONTRIBUTOR TO GOOD BALANCE.

“Tour power” shoe styles afford players with good flexibility and balance, the traction and stability to maximize power potential. Such design can also help players who need to compensate for physical limitations that restrict range of motion, disrupt balance, and cause power leaks. Anchored footing supports the effort to “wind up the backswing”, create torque, and then let it go.

CONNECTING TO THE GROUND IS THE FIRST STEP TO CREATING GROUND FORCE.

“Old School” shoes weighed 2 to 3 times more than modern shoes. The simple fact that a heavier shoe contributes to stability is worth noting. Consider practicing while wearing ankle weights. First with weights on both feet, then try just one at a time, lead foot, then trail foot. Doing this will improve your balance, sense of weight distribution and transfer during the swing, to create a firm foundation and power from the ground up.

UMES UPDATE!

In this update, we will showcase a new article title "Where are they now?" a brief update of our inaugural graduates from the graduating class of 2012. As COVID-19 has halted UMES PGA Golf Management program annual events such as the Mason Dixon Line Challenge or the PGA Jones Cup this also provides an opportunity to mix things up. In our first "Where are they now" installment Lewis Schnauble, III, PGA is currently the Experiential Lead Manager of the Northeast region for TaylorMade Golf Company.

Following graduation in 2012, Lewis Schnauble, III, PGA moved to Louisville, Kentucky to work for TaylorMade Golf as a Regional Sales Representative covering Kentucky, West Virginia, Indiana, and Ohio. In his time with TaylorMade, he has traveled all over the country providing Tour-Van Fittings for Large Corporate Golf Outings. If you have attended a TaylorMade Fitting Day in Maryland, Virginia, or Delaware there is a good chance you have met Lewis.

"I've always had an interest in golf equipment, both fitting, and building clubs." So much so that he built his second set of clubs that he ever played by himself. One of the main reasons he joined the team at TaylorMade, "I believe they are the best golf equipment manufacturer in the world making world-class products that help everyone play better golf." Lewis loves his job with TaylorMade and loved living in Louisville but had the opportunity to come back home to Maryland four years ago. He met with the executives with TaylorMade and discussed creating a specialized Fitting Expert position that assisted Sale Representatives in each region of the United States. Lewis now oversees the fitting experts in the northeast region.

"The most rewarding part of my job is fitting golfers into products where they see significant gains in distance, better dispersion, and/or help avoid a particular shot shape. It's exciting to have someone see the benefits of properly fitted golf equipment," says Lewis. The proud UMES graduate credits his success to Billy Dillon, PGA and Dr. Chris Prosser, PGA

His advice for anyone looking to get into the golf is: "Never stop learning and don't be afraid of change. There's a great history to learn from, however, there is always new ways to improve or increase efficiency if you're willing to try new things."

Schnauble is now wrapping up his sixth season with TaylorMade, he loves traveling throughout the Middle Atlantic area helping golfers get the best golf clubs on the market. When he is not traveling for work, he is relaxing at home with his dog, Freya.

Wins Scholarship from Caves Valley Golf Club Foundation

In early August, the University of Maryland Eastern Shore (UMES) welcomed 340 Freshmen students to its campus in Princess Anne. One of the promising young men among this cohort is Sam Turner of St. Michaels, Maryland. In August 2019, Sam won the Eastern Shore Golf Junior Tour (ESG Junior Tour), beating out a group of 50 junior golfers. UMES has been involved with the ESG Junior Tour for many years. "The Tour is a wonderful recruitment opportunity for our PGA Golf Management Program," said Billy Dillon, who directs the program. The PGA Certified Program is part of the University's Hospitality and Tourism Management (HTM) Program. It is one of only 18 programs of its kind across the United States and UMES is the only Historically Black University to offer the program. "Our students learn the ins and outs of managing a golf course or many other golf-related businesses," said Dr. Pamela Allison, Chair of the Hospitality and Tourism Management Program (HTM). "Our students take many of the same classes as our other HTM students, but they also learn the particulars about the golf industry," she noted. "They also play a lot of golf!"

The PGA Program was created in 2008 and is designed to nurture the interest and involvement of young people in golf – particularly African American and other students of color who are sparsely represented in the sport. "We are proud," noted Dillon, "that our program is very diverse in composition with students from nearly all of the east coast states as well as Oregon, California, Ohio, Michigan, and elsewhere."

Since 2014, the program has received generous support from the Caves Valley Golf Club Foundation, which provides full funding for select PGA Golf Management majors for their full four-year program. This includes tuition, room and board, university fees, special PGA Golf fees, as well as a laptop. "We are delighted to support this outstanding program," said Scott Dorsey, current Chair of the Caves Valley Golf Club Foundation. "I anticipate that Sam Turner will be a wonderful addition to the program and team."

"We are grateful to the Caves Valley Golf Club Foundation for their ongoing, generous support of this important program," said Heidi M. Anderson, the 16th President of UMES. "My husband and I are avid golfers, and I am delighted to see new students join the program each year. Sam will be a wonderful addition to the program and to our University."

Originally, Sam had accepted a tuition-only scholarship offered by the University, but when Mr. Dillon mentioned that he could nominate Sam for the Caves Valley Scholarship, Sam decided that he would rather apply for that opportunity. After satisfying the minimum educational qualifications and meeting with the Caves Valley Board of Directors, the University approved Sam's Caves Valley Scholarship.

"I look forward to seeing Sam excel both in the classroom and on the golf course," Mr. Dillon said. "He is a fine young man, and most deserving of the Caves Valley Scholarship opportunity."

@WALT DISNEY WORLD® GOLF

8.20.2020

Over 130 players and their families travelled to the Walt Disney World Resort in Lake Buena Vista Florida in August to compete in the Inaugural National Championship. The players fought it out during record breaking temperatures for two magical days of golf, family and fun. Players were treated to Under Armour backsacks and National Championship shirts along with a $30 Disney gift card upon arrival. Although Covid prevented us from hosting our group welcome dinner reception, the amazing golf courses and Under Armour event staff ensured a magical time was enjoyed by all who attended. The players did not disappoint with some incredible play throughout the weekend.

POWERED BY UNDER ARMOUR

Thirty two of the Nation's top athletes in our 6-9 age division battled it out on Disney's Oak Trail Golf Club for the 18-Hole National Championship. The weekend was dominated by Benny Ossi as he came in -6 under par 66! Lily Wachter and Tej Atluru fired even under par rounds to finish on the podium and take home some crystal. Benny earned a new pair of Jordan Spieth golf shoes and a $250 Under Armour gift card! It's an amazing experience to watch these young children have the discipline, patience and dedication that this game requires.

In the 10-13 division, Bento Assis of Florida and Brandon Sipe of Virginia battled it out toe to toe for 28 holes before Mother Nature had them come in from the course. The Under Armour National Championship's top 2 players in this division were tied at one under par for the weekend when we had to shorten the contest to 28 holes. Both boys displayed amazing sportsmanship and class on and off the course and we are so proud to call them Under Armour Athletes. They separated themselves from the field by 10 shots with 8 holes to go. We were disappointed that they couldn't finish, and we look forward to watching these young men continue to develop and grow!

Connor DeMichelle of Florida (14-18 division) caught the Disney Courses on fire shooting a 5 Under Par 67 on day 1 on Disney's Palm Course and continued his solid play on day 2 on Disney's Magnolia Course to take home The Under Armour Junior Golf National Championship! Congrats Champ!!

After 2 rounds of THE TOUR UA National Championship the players set the stage for the final round. The top gun division saw Shaun Fettes, the Carolina Champion shoot two under par rounds giving him a two shot lead over Steven Goodley. Goodley fired a 69 on day two to close the gap. Two former Junior Tour on the Shore All Stars that have come up through the ranks played themselves into the final group as well. Ryan Kane and Pierce Shearin put the Top Gun Division Players on notice. Ryan shot one under par 71 on the RTJ Course and was tied for the lead after day one (finished T3). Pierce Shearin fired a tourney low round of 68 on the Newport Bay Course on day 2 (finished 6th). The 3 Time Champ Phillip Fenstermaker struggled a bit on day one but turned it around and scrambled for an even par round on day two finding himself nine shots off the lead going into Championship Sunday. Fenstermaker and fellow Maryland Terp golfer Britt Musser, Tony Worm and Nick Lemmer were in the group behind and tried to chase down the leaders. The B flight leaders were Peter Mossaidis, Brent Dewitz, George Koroulakis and John Nagurney. The C Flight had Steve Dipietro, John Spandikow, Brandon Mariner and Clarence Smith in the final group. The D flight had Joe Thrower, Ron Ron Vodenichar and Josh Drury leading the way.

TOUR UA A-FLIGHT SEAN FETTES

My Golf story begins very similar to a lot of junior golfers in the Tiger Woods era. I picked up my first golf club at age 7, and was immediately in love with the game. Making practice putts to win the Masters or the US Open, and the imaginary crowd going wild! My father would drop me off at Yale Golf Course in New Haven, CT summer mornings before work, and grab a cart to find me wherever I was on the course at dusk. Walking 54 holes a day was my daily routine. I played competitive golf in high school, as well as some AJGA and CSGA tournaments. (Photo 1)

After high school, my priorities changed, as they do for a lot of us, and Golf took a backseat until I was in my late 20's when I moved to Charlotte, NC. I was introduced to the Kings Mountain Country Club in 2013 through a co-worker. That is where my competitive golf bug was rekindled. A yearly member-guest tournament, and weekly "choose-ups" honed my skills. I started breaking par consistently, even carded my first "ace". My passion for Golf was back and burning hotter than ever.

I had the pleasure in 2018 of taking a trip over to the motherland and played the Old Course at St. Andrews, Carnoustie, and Kingsbarns as well as the New Course, Jubilee, and the Castle Course. As anyone that has taken that trip knows, I was on Cloud 9 the entire time. We experienced 20 minutes of hail while playing Carnoustie(who could draw it up better!), and consistent 40 mph winds all week. (Photo 10)

Shortly thereafter, a member at KMCC mentioned the UA Tour, and I signed up for the 2018 Carolina Regional Qualifier at River's Edge Golf Club in Shallotte, NC. Shooting a smooth 71 gained me entry into my first UA National Championship in Ocean City, MD. I had not felt nerves and pressure the way I did during that round in a long time. With that being said, I performed to a high caliber, and it reinforced in my mind that I could perform under pressure and execute the shots. (photo 6)

We made a trip up to Ocean City, MD in March 2019 to scout the National Championship courses and prepare for the tournament. The first thing that I gathered was that the playing conditions were similar to that of Scotland. Consistently windy, having to flight the ball down etc. Heading to the June 26th-28th, 2019 event I felt prepared, and ready to tackle the Ocean City Golf Club, Ocean Pines, and Eagle's Landing layouts. I posted a 75-76-77 for a 228 54 hole total to take T-7. I was proud of where I finished, but certainly wanted more. (Photo 3 & Photo 7)

Back to the drawing board for the 2020 UA National Championship with 1 goal. Win!! The Carolina's Regional Qualifier was August 31st, 2019 back at River's Edge. After 18 holes, I was tied for the lead, and had to playoff on the 9th hole, and ended up defending my title successfully with a win on the 1st playoff hole. I had my ticket punched back to Nationals.

Starting in March 2020 right as the COVID pandemic was in high gear, I set a game plan for how I was going to accomplish my goal. I made a few dietary and personal habit changes to improve my mental and physical game, and committed to an "after-work" practice regimen. I purchased a push cart and made Monday, Wednesday, and Friday 18 hole on-course practice sessions. These sessions improved my physical stamina with walking, and gave me lots of opportunities to work on shots that I just could not recreate on the practice tee. Tuesday and Thursday I would hit 2 buckets of range balls, and then chip and putt to work on feel and green reading. Unfortunately, my plans for Nationals were delayed a couple of months, but before I knew it August had arrived, and I was headed up to Maryland.

Round 1 was played at the RTJ designed Ocean Pines Golf Club. I was paired for the first 2 rounds with 3-time UA National Champion Phil Fenstermaker. My mindset going into the round was to play him match play. If I could keep up with Phil, I knew I would have a chance. I hit 4-iron off #1 into the right rough. Hit an 8 iron for my second in to 3 feet and made birdie right out of the gates. I played a consistent round with 4 birdies and 3 bogeys to card a 71, and was tied for the lead. Round 2 was played at Ocean City Golf Club on the Newport Bay Course. I carded a 2-under par 70 to hold a 2 shot lead going into the final round.

I was paired with Steve Goodley, Ryan Kane, and Pierce Shearin for the final round. I had played 2 previous rounds with Steve and Ryan, both of whom are top notch players, in the 2019 championship. It gave me some peace knowing two of the players in my group. Pierce carded the low round of the tournament on Saturday, a 68, so I knew our final round was going to be very competitive. Heading into the back 9 on Championship Sunday, I was still maintaining the 2 shot lead I brought into the final round. What ensued next was the best stretch of heads up golf I have ever been fortunate enough to be a part of. I birdied 10 to go 3 up, Steve birdied 11 to get it right back, I birdied 12 to go 4 up, Steve birdied 13 to get back 1. With 5 holes to play, I had a 3 shot lead. I remember reflecting on that 14th tee that if I could go even par for the last 5 holes, Steve would have to play some incredible golf to beat me. I ended up playing the last 5 in 2 under to shoot 32 on the back for a Sunday 69 and a 54 hole total of 210. Not only had I bettered my previous years score by 18 strokes, I had set the Tournament record and won by 10 shots.

I am so grateful that my Mother was there and saw every shot of that tournament. My father was playing in the tournament, but was able to watch the final round. And 2 of my closest friends Thomas and Sarah flew up from Dade City, Florida just to watch the final round as well. It was unquestionably the biggest moment in my golfing life, and something I will never forget.

The game of Golf has a unique ability to teach us things about ourselves that we may not have learned without it. I learned patience, commitment, and tenacity just to name a few. I would not be the man I am today if it were not for the game of Golf. I am very grateful to represent the Tour Sponsored by Under Armour as its National Champion. I am also very grateful for Ray & Holly Taranto and the entire UA team for their hard work putting together these events, and I look forward to defending my title in 2021!

Eastern Shore Yacht and Country Club president Peter Turlington cuts the ribbon signaling the opening of the new clubhouse to replace the facility destroyed by fire in December of 2017. The clubhouse includes a members' lounge, a larger bar area with casual dining, a separate and more formal dining area, a card room, a kids' zone with high-speed Internet where youth can play games and relax, and a covered porch and outside patio. The new clubhouse will complement the sports center that opened last fall and serves the tennis courts and swimming pool and houses the pro shop for the golf course.

JOKE BY BOB PHILLIPS

WHILE SITTING AT A TABLE IN THE CLUBHOUSE AFTER A GAME, PADRAIG REMARKED TO A FELLOW CLUB MEMBER; 'I'M NOT GOING TO PLAY GOLF WITH JIM LAWLER ANYMORE. HE CHEATS.'

'WHY DO YOU SAY THAT?' ASKED HIS FRIEND.

'WELL, HE FOUND HIS LOST BALL TWO FEET FROM THE GREEN', REPLIED PADRAIG INDIGNANTLY.

'THAT'S ENTIRELY POSSIBLE', COMMENTED HIS FRIEND.

'NOT WHEN I HAD HIS GOLF BALL IN MY POCKET, RETORTED PADRAIG WITH FINALITY.
